MEDIA INFORMATION

TO THE MEDIA: Welcome to the 24th season of Kings basketball in Sacramento. The Kings media relations department will do everything possible to assist you in your coverage of the club during the 2008-2009 NBA season. If we can ever be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to call on us. In an effort to continue to provide a professional working environment, we have established the following media guidelines.

CREDENTIALS: Single-game press credentials can be reserved by accredited media members via e-mail (credentials@kingsbball.com) until 48 hours prior to the requested game (no exceptions). Media members covering the Kings on a regular basis will be issued season credentials, but are still required to reserve seating for all games via phone (916-286-3442) to the media relations office by the above mentioned deadline. Credentials will allow working media members entry into ARCO Arena, while also providing reserved press seating, and access to both team locker rooms and the media press room. In all cases, credentials are non-transferable and any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from ARCO Arena and forfeiture of the credential. All single-game credentials may be picked-up two hours in advance of tip-off at the media check-in table, located at the Southeast security entrance of ARCO Arena.

PRESS ROOM: The Kings press room is located on the Southeast side of ARCO Arena on the operations level and will be opened two hours prior to game time. Admittance/space is limited to working media members with credentials only. The press room will remain open throughout the game and until the last working media member has finished his/her gamenight duties. The professional intent of the press room is to provide a meeting and working place for writers, reporters, broadcasters, and game personnel. Family members and guests will not be admitted in the press room. Any abuse of the press room and/or press privileges will result in forfeiture of your press pass. Television monitors, telephones, internet service, and work space will be provided in the press room.

LOCKER ROOMS: The Kings locker room is located on the East side of the Arena on the operations level. The visitors locker room is located on the West side of the Arena on the operations level. In accordance with NBA policy, both locker rooms will be open up to 45 minutes before game time and 15 minutes after the game. Only those individuals with prominently displayed credentials will gain admittance into the locker rooms. Your cooperation and courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews.

INTERVIEWS: As stated above, pregame interviews are allowed until 45 minutes prior to game time. Postgame interviews are conducted as follows: Both the Kings Head Coach (in press room) and visiting team coach (at opposing locker room entrance) will address media members approximately 10 minutes after the game, while the players will be made available in their respective locker rooms. Your cooperation and professional courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews.

TELEVISION/RADIO: Television and radio broadcast positions are located along the scorers' table on the North sideline. The Kings' media relations department will arrange statisticians for all radio and television broadcasters. If statisticians are needed, please contact the media relations department at least 72 hours prior to game time. Once arrangements are made for statisticians, the individual must be paid whether or not they are used. The media relations department will also arrange pregame, halftime, and postgame interviews according to NBA guidelines. Please make arrangements for those interviews as early as possible.

MEDIA SEATING: Reserved media seating has been designated on the scorers' table and in Media Boxes 217, 218, and 221. All seats are reserved and marked with place cards for each individual media member. Seating charts are posted at the media check-in desk and in the press room. Individuals are asked to sit in their pre-assigned seats. Electrical outlets and telephones are placed on press row for your convenience. If a media member is in need of an individual phone, please contact the media relations department for assistance. Statistics and out of town scores will be distributed throughout the game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Limited designated spaces are available on each baseline for both still photographers and television camera persons. All photographers are required to pick up photo passes upon arrival at the media check-in desk before entering ARCO Arena. Photographers without photo passes will not be allowed on the arena floor.

MEDIA TICKETS/PARKING: A limited number of game tickets are available to the media from the Kings media relations department. Unfortunately, all requests cannot be honored. There is a limit to the number of tickets allotted each request, and all requests should be made at least three days prior to the requested game. Media members are asked to enter the arena parking area via Toll Plaza 9 and park in Lot K.

SERVICES: A pregame media meal with beverages will be served in the press room. Game notes, media guides, and a limited number of programs will be available in the press room before the start of the game. In addition, play-by-play sheets, halftime-quarter boxscores, and postgame quotes and notes will be available in the press room following the game. Box scores and play-by-play sheets will be delivered in a prompt manner to press row at the end of each quarter. Advance game notes will be delivered to the hotel of all visiting media members. In order to provide this service efficiently, we ask that you contact the Kings media relations department if you are not staying at the designated team hotel. If there is anything else that we can do to assist your coverage of the Kings this NBA season, please do not hesitate to ask.

MALOOF FAMILY

Hard-Working, Customer Service-Driven Family Taking the Kings to the Upper Echelon of Professional Sports and Entertainment

In nine years of ownership, the Maloof family has guided the Sacramento Kings and Monarchs as well as ARCO Arena to unparalleled heights. Under the family's leadership, the Kings and Monarchs have advanced to the NBA and WNBA Playoffs, respectively, and produced entertaining basketball that has been seen throughout the world. The Kings have recorded 50-plus regular season victories five times, won back-to-back Pacific Division titles in 2001-02 and 2002-03, and advanced to the 2002 Western Conference Finals. The Monarchs won the 2005 WNBA Championship and were the Western Conference champions in 2006.

Even more impressive than the company's competitive accomplishments has been Maloof Sports & Entertainment's significant impact within the community. The Maloof family's business philosophy strongly incorporates the idea of making a meaningful difference in the lives of families in need and at risk in the Sacramento region by working to advance the cause of literacy in the region through the donation of Kings Reading and Learning Centers. In just nine years, Maloof Sports and Entertainment has donated and distributed more than $13 million to a variety of charitable needs through cash donations and in-kind gifts.

Each preseason the Maloofs donate $100,000 in proceeds from a selected Kings exhibition game to assist area capital improvement projects as a tribute to the family's late father and husband under the name of the George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup. In the past, the annual $100,000 gift has allowed the Sacramento Airport Little League to completely refurbish its little league sports complex, the Sacramento Unified School District to repair a building in downtown Sacramento to house Hemispheres, an after-school visual and performing arts academy, the Sacramento Asian Sports Foundation to bring a Community Cultural and Youth Sports Center to South Sacramento, the St. Patrick's Home for Children to provide clothing and educational resources for the center's children, the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament to make repairs to its structure in downtown Sacramento, the Sacramento Local Conservation Corps to construct a new educational building, and the Kiwanis Family House to provide temporary housing and support to families of seriously ill or injured children and adults being treated at the UC Davis Medical Center. Last year's donation assisted KVIE in promoting the life-long benefits of reading to children throughout the Sacramento region. This season, the annual contribution is going toward the building of the Capital Unity Center.

The family's dedication to community service earned Joe and Gavin Maloof the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame's Most Involved Executives award for 2001. In addition, the organization's work was recognized with the Pro Team Humanitarian Award in both 2002 and 2004.

During the summer of 2005, the Kings, Monarchs, and Maloofs helped lead the charge in Sacramento to assist those affected by the destruction suffered from Hurricane Katrina in the Gulf Coast region. Through on-line auctions, fan, employee, and player donations, and a 100% matching donation from the Maloofs, the organization helped raise nearly $300,000 for those in-need.

Striving toward the goal of providing complete customer and employee satisfaction, Maloof Sports and Entertainment works under the vision statement of "a championship caliber team of people committed to the highest level of performance, service, quality, innovation, community involvement, and winning relationships."

"Our family lives by two Maloof business philosophies: cater to our customers and take care of our employees," states Joe Maloof. "We have a long-term commitment to our fans and employees that make the entire Sacramento community proud to call this organization their own."

The Kings and Maloof Sports & Entertainment continue to explore ways to enhance the entertainment value of the nearly two million guests who annually enter through the ARCO Arena gateways. In the 2000-2001 operating budget, the company earmarked $1 million for training, services, and equipment designed to improve customer service and satisfaction. The investment paid immediate dividends, as the Kings ranked first in the NBA in overall fan experience in 2001 and 2003 in a league-wide survey conducted every other year by J.D. Powers and Associates.

The Maloofs' strong leadership and innovation in the NBA and WNBA was instrumental in spearheading Las Vegas' successful bid to host the 2007 NBA All-Star Weekend. Having also contributed to promoting several other sports besides basketball, including football, soccer, boxing, horse racing, skateboarding, collegiate athletics, and the mixed martial arts, the Maloof family in 2007 was recognized as one of the 100 Most Influential People in the World of Sports by BusinessWeek. This past summer, Joe and Gavin Maloof spearheaded an innovative effort in the world of action sports, developing and hosting the inaugural Maloof Money Cup. The three-day skateboarding championship and action sports lifestyle festival played to sold out crowds at the Orange County Fairgrounds in Costa Mesa, Calif., and was broadcast nationally on CBS.

Celebrated Return to Professional Sports

The Maloof family's interest in purchasing the Kings, Monarchs, and ARCO Arena originated in 1997 when they contacted then-Managing General Partner Jim Thomas regarding the availability of the teams and arena. On January 14, 1998, the Maloofs completed the purchase of a minority limited partnership in the organization's franchises and ARCO Arena. Although both the Kings and Monarchs suffered through subpar seasons in 1997-98, the Maloofs continued their pursuit of primary ownership and on January 15, 1999, subsequently purchased controlling interest, effective July 1, 1999. The NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the ownership transfer on May 7, 1999, in New York, at which time the Board of Governors appointed Joe Maloof to the Board. The official closing of the ownership transaction took place on July 1, 1999.

Their purchase of the Kings returned the Maloofs to the NBA after a 17-year absence during which the family eagerly pursued an opportunity to rejoin the league. Owners of the Houston Rockets from 1979 through 1982, the Maloofs watched their Rockets rise to elite status, advancing to the NBA Finals for the first time in the team's history in 1981. In fact, Houston's 1981 Finals appearance coupled with the Kings' advancement to the 2002 Western Conference Finals makes the Maloof family the only ownership group in NBA history to take two different franchises to the Western Conference Finals.

Following the death of their father, George Maloof, Sr., in 1980, Joe and Gavin Maloof, who were only in their mid-20's at the time, took over responsibility for the Rockets along with their mother, Colleen, their two younger brothers, George, Jr. and Phil, and their sister, Adrienne. The added responsibilities of continuing the growth of the family business forced the Maloofs to sell the Rockets in 1982, but George Maloof's original passion for NBA basketball has remained with the family.

"We waited a long time to get back into the NBA. I remember going to the NBA Finals with the Rockets in 1981, and how exciting that was. We have succeeded in bringing that excitement to Sacramento with the Kings and the Monarchs," Gavin Maloof stated.

A 100-Year Model for Diversified Business Success

The Maloof Companies are a diversified group of business ventures including hotels, casinos, banking, food and beverage, and transportation headquartered in Albuquerque, New Mexico and operated in California, Nevada, New Mexico, and Colorado.

In 1994, the family made a $10 million investment in a small piece of property in North Las Vegas, building the quaint 30,000-square foot, 100-room Fiesta Casino Hotel. After a pair of expansive renovations, the 75,000-square foot Fiesta became one of the most profitable hotel casinos per square foot in the entire state of Nevada. In fact, in an August '99 edition of the USA Today, the Fiesta Casino Hotel was voted one of the world's 10 greatest gambling destinations, ranking with the likes of the Bellagio and Caesars Palace in Las Vegas and the Trump Taj Mahal Casino Resort in Atlantic City.

In July of 2000, the Maloof family sold the operating interest in the Fiesta Hotel Casino for over $185 million. The family immediately re-invested the money into the construction of the Palms, originally a $285 million hotel casino just off the Las Vegas strip which opened for business on November 15, 2001. Having grown to three towers and 1,300 guest rooms (including Palms Place) in just seven years, the Palms features outstanding customer service, unique architecture, and award-winning restaurants, entertainment, nightlife, and amenities, becoming the hottest property in Las Vegas with thousands of visitors daily. Anchored by the 2,500-seat, state-of-the-art Pearl concert theatre, the Palms has become an entertainment hotbed having hosted the 2007 MTV Video Music Awards, several World and US movie premiers (including Oceans 13), and numerous high-profile musical and comedy acts. In 2007, the Palms also served as the participant and entertainer hotel for the NBA All-Star Weekend festivities.

In addition to their gaming business, the Maloofs have exclusive proprietorship rights to the distribution of Coors, Miller, Corona, Heineken, Tecate, Boston Beer, and Guinness products throughout New Mexico. The Maloof Companies also is one of the largest single shareholders in Wells Fargo Bank, which operates banks and branches in 23 states throughout the Western United States with over $200 billion in assets and 15 million customers.

The Maloofs continue to expand their business in the entertainment industry with the development of Maloof Productions and Maloof Music. Maloof Productions is committed to developing and producing quality television and motion picture entertainment. The Maloof Music label debuts as a joint venture with Interscope/Geffen/A&M Records, which is the largest record company in the world under the direction of chairman and legendary music mogul Jimmy Iovine. In fact, Maloof Music is the first joint venture with Interscope/Geffen/A&M without a previous music industry background such as an artist, writer, or producer.

"Our family is extremely excited to broaden our entertainment interests through Maloof Productions and Maloof Music. We look forward to producing quality entertainment in television, motion pictures, and music," states Phil Maloof.

Colleen Maloof serves as Chair of the Board of Directors of the Maloof Companies. Joe Maloof is president of the corporation and oversees the banking and sports and entertainment divisions, while Gavin Maloof is vice chairman, also leading the sports and entertainment daily operation. George Maloof, Jr., is an executive vice president and heads the hotel division, and Adrienne Maloof is the secretary/treasurer of the company. Phil Maloof is an executive vice president and the point person for Maloof Productions and Maloof Music.

The Maloof family history in the United States dates back to 1892 when Joe Maloof I opened a small general store in northern New Mexico. By the 1930's, the Maloof family acquired the distribution rights to Coors Beer and subsequently established Quality Imports, a wholesale fine liquor distribution center, in 1937. When Joe Maloof I suffered a major heart attack in 1944, his son, George J. Maloof, left his studies at the University of Colorado to assume responsibility of the Maloof Companies at the age of 21.

George J. Maloof successfully expanded the family business into a group of diversified companies, moving into the hotel and banking sectors in the 1970's. In 1978, responding to his love for sports and competition, Maloof purchased the majority ownership of the Rockets. However, just two years later during the Rockets' rise to the upper echelon of the NBA, Maloof passed away at the age of 57. His wife, Colleen, assumed control of the entire Maloof operation and rather than selling off the company assets, she enlisted the assistance of her five children. Under Colleen Maloof the family expanded their beer and liquor distribution operations and later opened their first gaming property in 1992. From 1990 to 1992 the family also owned the Birmingham Fire of the World League of American Football.

In the 100-plus years that have defined the Maloof Companies, customer service and a strong work ethic combined with energy and vision are the qualities that have built this one-time general store into a business model for diversified success. "From the days of my grandfather's general store to our entire operation now, the Maloof family business philosophy always has been centered around complete customer and employee satisfaction. In Sacramento, the fans are our customers and providing a great experience for them is our goal," says Gavin Maloof.

MALOOF FAMILY

JOE MALOOF

Joseph Maloof is President of the Maloof Companies. Joe's business expertise and leadership qualities have helped enhance and diversify the corporation's growth since his father's death in 1980.

Joe manages the Maloof Companies' nearly 3,500 employees with an open door policy, much like his father did nearly 30 years ago. He also believes in treating customers in a first-class manner and with the utmost respect, and is often seen talking and listening to the fans and customers of the various family businesses.

"My father's business philosophy of taking care of our customers and employees was successful long ago, and all of us in the family have chosen to manage with that same style," states Joe.

His extensive expertise in management, sales, and marketing has been invaluable during the company's expansion into banking, hotels, and gaming over the past 20 years. He currently serves on the Board of the Coors Distributor Council. In May of 1999, he was appointed to the NBA Board of Governors by Commissioner David Stern after the Maloof family was unanimously approved by the Board to assume controlling interest of the Kings.

Like all of his family, Joe's charitable efforts are an important aspect of his personal and professional life. He has assisted countless community service groups through the years, including the Boys Club, the University of New Mexico, the American GI Forum, the Airport Little League, and the League of Latin American Citizens, to name just a few.

He has a passion for competition, stemming from his days as a prep and collegiate athlete. He was MVP of his high school basketball team at Lawrenceville Prep School (Lawrenceville, N.J.), and was a two-time letterwinner as a defensive back at the University of New Mexico, where he graduated in 1979 with a degree in business.

Joe resides in Sacramento less than two miles from ARCO Arena. He enjoys working out and is an avid tennis player.

GAVIN MALOOF

As Vice Chairman of Maloof Companies, Gavin Maloof assists in all aspects of the family's diversified business ventures while overseeing the company's sports and entertainment operation. He is dedicated to maintaining and building the corporation's national and international prominence and spearheading a new era of growth for the company.

Although Gavin is relatively young in terms of professional sports and entertainment ownership, his experience is extensive. Following the death of his father, George J. Maloof, Sr., in 1980, Gavin was named president of the Houston Rockets at the age of 24, making him the youngest owner and operator in major professional sports history. The Rockets enjoyed immediate success under Gavin's leadership, advancing to the NBA Finals for the first time in franchise history in 1981. With the likes of Moses Malone, Calvin Murphy, and Elvin Hayes, the Rockets qualified for postseason play in all three seasons under the Maloof family ownership.

In addition to his front office management with the Rockets, Gavin also served as team president during the Maloof's tenure as owners of the Birmingham Fire of the World League of American Football (WLAF) from 1990-92.

Gavin has always placed an importance on his community service work. Over the years he has served on the board of directors for several charitable causes, including those focusing on the well-being of children.

An active sports fan and participant, Gavin was an outstanding football player at the New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, N.M., and at Trinity University in San Antonio. He graduated from Trinity in 1979 with a speech and communications degree. Last year he was inducted into the New Mexico Military Institute Hall of Fame as one of the school's most successful graduates, an honor bestowed on only a handful of people in the school's long history.

Gavin resides in Sacramento less than two miles from ARCO Arena. He enjoys playing golf in his spare time.

DID YOU KNOW ... The family's dedication to community service earned Joe and Gavin Maloof the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame's Most Involved Executives award for 2001. In addition, the organization's work was recognized with the Pro Team Humanitarian Award in both 2002 and 2004.

COLLEEN J. MALOOF

Chair of the Board, Maloof Companies
Trustee for the Estate of George J. Maloof

Colleen J. Maloof is chair of the board of the Maloof companies and trustee for the estate of George J. Maloof. Throughout the key years that George Maloof built the Maloof Companies into the largest group of family-owned enterprises in New Mexico, Colleen was an instrumental partner in their prosperity. Faced with the challenge of carrying on the family tradition of success after her husband's passing, she has grown the Maloof Companies as never before.

Colleen Maloof is a major force behind the family's continued strength and the Maloof's corporate and civic leadership. She is a leader in her community and has received a number of honors and awards, including the Associated Students of University of New Mexico Award for Dedication and Service, Mexican-American Foundation of America Women of the Year Award, and the Image de Albuquerque Award, which was presented to the Maloof family for their significant contributions to Hispanic business development.

Colleen has played a pivotal role in developing the "Maloof style" managerial skills of her children, Joe, Gavin, George Jr., Phil, and Adrienne. She has worked to ensure that company policies and practices remain true to the family motto, "The Customer is King."

MALOOF FAMILY

GEORGE MALOOF

Adhering to his father's policy of learning the family business "from the ground up," George J. Maloof, Jr. has successfully established himself as an innovator in the hotel and gaming industries.

George is the leading force behind the building and operation of the hottest property in Las Vegas, the Palms, which is owned by the Maloof family, and has become one of the most sought-after destinations in the entertainment capital of the world.

As President of Maloof Hotels since 1989, George has overseen the operation of hotels throughout the Southwest and California, including the Fiesta Casino Hotel in Las Vegas, the Central Palace Casino in Central City, Colorado, and the Palms.

George has very strong ties to the Las Vegas community. He is a UNLV alumnus, where he received his bachelor's degree in business administration (hotel management) in 1987.

In addition to his work in the gaming industry, George is also a member of the Patriarchal Order of the Holy Cross of Jerusalem and the Las Vegas Chapter of Legatus.

ADRIENNE MALOOF-NASSIF

Whether it's marketing, fashion design, promotion, or politics, Adrienne Maloof-Nassif is involved in all aspects as well as the overall leadership of the Maloof Companies.

Adrienne's marketing and promotional contributions have been invaluable in the Sacramento Kings becoming one of the most recognizable franchises in all of professional sports. In addition, her lifelong interest in competitive professional dancing has allowed her to lend her expertise to the Kings' widely popular dance team.

Philanthropic work also is a personal passion for Adrienne. Because of her love and concern for animals and children, Adrienne has joined forces with the Sacramento SPCA to serve as an honorary spokesperson. Her financial contributions allowed the SPCA to complete a new shelter in February of 2002 and develop the Adrienne Maloof Camp Kindness program, which allows underprivileged youth to learn the proper care and handling of animals. Her Camp Kindness program was so successful in Sacramento that she is currently in the process of developing a similar program for the Los Angeles SPCA.

Growing up in Albuquerque, New Mexico, she was one of the country's top ranked junior tennis players and went on to play collegiate tennis at the University of New Mexico, where she earned a bachelor's degree in political science.

Adrienne resides in Los Angeles with her husband Paul and their three children.

PHIL MALOOF

Phil Maloof is an executive vice president with Maloof Companies and the point person for the family's newest business ventures, Maloof Productions and Maloof Music.

A former senator for the state of New Mexico, Phil was one of the youngest elected officials in the country, appointed to the New Mexico State Senate following the election of Mayor Martin Chavez, and subsequently re-elected to a full four-year term from his west Albuquerque district in 1996, before running for U.S. Congress in 2000.

Phil was known for his tough stance on crime while representing New Mexico, becoming the first state senator in the country to sponsor the Three Strikes, You're Out law, in addition to helping pass several bills aimed at improving school funding.

An outstanding all-around athlete, Phil played quarterback collegiately at New Mexico State, before earning his post-secondary degree from the University of New Mexico.

Phil resides in Las Vegas and also has a home in Los Angeles, where he works to develop Maloof Productions and the Maloof Music label. In addition, he assists in the other Maloof family businesses, including the Sacramento Kings and the Palms hotel and casino property. He enjoys playing basketball and traveling in his spare time.

GEOFF PETRIE

President, Basketball Operations

A two-time NBA Executive of the Year award winner, Geoff Petrie has been the key figure behind the success of the Sacramento Kings over the past 15 years.

Under Petrie's direction, the Kings have qualified for the NBA Playoffs in eight of the past 10 campaigns and nine of the past 13 years overall, while winning Pacific Division titles in 2001-02 and 2002-03 and advancing to the 2002 Western Conference Finals. Between 2000-01 and 2004-05, Sacramento joined San Antonio and Dallas as the only teams in the league to register 50-plus wins in each of those years.

When Petrie was named The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year following the 1998-99 campaign, he became the first person to win both the league's executive and rookie annual awards. Petrie shared the 1971 NBA Rookie of the Year award with Boston's Dave Cowens. Following the 2000-01 season, Petrie was named The Sporting News Executive of the Year for a second time.

Petrie oversees all aspects of the Kings' basketball operations department, including the coaching and scouting staffs, team negotiations and player acquisitions. He also serves as the main basketball liaison between the Kings, the NBA and the league's 29 other teams.

Petrie's eye for talent has been indisputable. He is forever trying to find ways to strengthen the Kings, evidenced by his moves over the last 15 years.

Petrie consummated one of the biggest trades in the NBA this past offseason (2008) with the Houston Rockets, where the Kings acquired the services of Donte Greene, Bobby Jackson and a future first-round draft pick and other considerations in exchange for Ron Artest and a pair of Sacramento's 2008 second-round NBA Draft picks in Sean Singletary and Patrick Ewing Jr.

Petrie's re-working of the Kings' roster has come via all avenues of player acquisition. His first-round draft choices have included current Kings Jason Thompson (2008, #12), Spencer Hawes (2007, #10), Quincy Douby (2006, #19), Francisco Garcia (2005, #23) and Kevin Martin (2004, #26), as well as former Kings players Peja Stojakovic (1996, #14), Corliss Williamson (1995, #13), Gerald Wallace (2001, #25), Brian Grant (1994, #8), Tariq Abdul-Wahad (1997, #11), Jason Williams (1998, #7) and Hedo Turkoglu (2000, #16). Meanwhile, his second-round draft selections also have proven to be productive, including Lawrence Funderburke (1994, #51), Michael Smith (1994, #35), Anthony Johnson (1997 #40 overall) and Jerome James (1998, #36 overall) each of whom played at least six NBA seasons.

Petrie also has consummated 24 player trades since 1994, highlighted by the 1998 deal, which landed All-Star forward Chris Webber. Of the Kings' current roster, three key players in Brad Miller, Bobby Jackson and Greene arrived in Sacramento via trade. Not only has he exhibited keen skills in bringing in talented players via the draft and free agent signings, Petrie also has achieved success in keeping key players for the future, evidenced by extending the contracts of Martin and Garcia and the re-signing of Beno Udrih to a multi-year pact.

Petrie was the first-ever selection of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1970 NBA Draft (#8 overall), prior to the club's inaugural NBA campaign. In his first season as a professional, he posted Portland team highs in scoring (24.8 ppg), field goals made (784) and attempted (1,770), free throws made (463) and attempted (600) and assists (4.8 apg).

Petrie's scoring average remains the highest ever by a Portland rookie, while his single-season point total (2,031 pts.) made him one of just eight players in NBA history to surpass the 2,000-point plateau in his rookie campaign. Oscar Robertson and Michael Jordan were the only other guards to achieve the feat (also Wilt Chamberlain, Walt Bellamy, Rick Barry, Elvin Hayes and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar).

Petrie was a two-time All-Star (1971, 1974) and winner of the NBA's 1973 One-on-One tournament, defeating the likes of Gail Goodrich and Bob McAdoo. He still holds Portland single-game records for most field goals attempted (37) and most free throws made (18). He currently ranks sixth on the Trail Blazers' all-time career list in points (9,732), fifth in assists (2,057) and third and fifth, respectively, in field goals attempted (8,719) and made (3,970). A knee injury suffered in his sixth NBA season (1975-76) ended his professional playing career in which he registered averages of 21.8 points, 2.8 rebounds and 4.6 assists per game. His Trail Blazers jersey (#45) was retired by Portland in 1981.

Following his retirement, Petrie worked in private business and beginning in 1984-85 in various roles within the Trail Blazers' front office, culminated by a four-year tenure as the team's senior vice president of operations. He was instrumental in the building of a Portland team that qualified for the 1990 and 1992 NBA Finals, which included the likes of Clyde Drexler, Buck Williams, Jerome Kersey and Terry Porter.

A 1970 graduate of Princeton University, Petrie earned consecutive All-East and All-Ivy League honors following each of his final two collegiate seasons under legendary Tigers head coach and former Kings' Assistant Coach Pete Carril. The team captain as a senior, Petrie ranks seventh on the school's all-time scoring list (1,321 pts.) and fourth among career scoring average leaders (19.9 ppg).

Petrie and his wife, Anne-Marie, reside in Sacramento. He has three children, son, Mike and twin daughters, Anne-Marie and Susanne and one grandson, Preston. Petrie enjoys working out, playing golf and tennis and playing guitar in his spare time.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

WAYNE COOPER

Vice President, Basketball Operations

Wayne Cooper is entering his 31st year in the NBA and his 15th with the Sacramento Kings organization. Cooper has served as the club's vice president, basketball operations since July of 1996. He was promoted to his current position after working two seasons as the club's director of basketball services/assistant coach. He came to Sacramento in July of 1994 following two campaigns in the Portland Trail Blazers' front office.

Cooper helps oversee the day-to-day operation of the Kings' basketball operations department under the direct guidance of President, Basketball Operations Geoff Petrie. In addition to scouting collegiate, professional and international talent, he is in charge of preseason scheduling and overseeing the club's collegiate player data base.

Cooper enjoyed a 14-year playing career in the NBA after being selected by the Golden State Warriors in the second round (#40 overall) of the 1978 NBA Draft. During his professional playing career, Cooper served stints in Golden State (1978-80), Utah (1980-81), Dallas (1981-82), Portland (1982-84 and 1989-92) and Denver (1984-89), posting career averages of 7.9 points, 6.2 rebounds and 1.56 blocks per game.

Cooper played collegiately at the University of New Orleans (1974-78) under Head Coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, earning 1978 Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year honors after averaging 18.1 points and a conference-high 12.7 rebounds during his senior campaign. He finished his career as the No. 2 shot blocker (183) and third-leading rebounder (920) in school history. He was inducted into the UNO Hall of Fame in 1988 and the Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 1992. Cooper was listed among Sports Illustrated's Top 101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports in 2003 and 2004.

He and his wife, Denise, live in Granite Bay and have three daughters, Lauren, Andrea and Courtney.

REGGIE THEUS

Head Coach

Reggie Theus enters his second year as head coach of the Sacramento Kings. He guided the Kings to a 38-44 record last season (2007-08), which was a five-win improvement over the previous year, despite being short-handed personnel-wise for most of the season due to injuries to key players. Sacramento recorded regular-season wins against all but three of the 16 teams (Cleveland, Washington and Boston) that competed in the 2008 NBA Playoffs.

Prior to signing on as the 21st head coach in Kings franchise history on June 19, 2007, Theus spent the previous two years as the head coach at New Mexico State University.

Theus, who played 13 years in the NBA and was a member of the 1985 inaugural Sacramento Kings, led New Mexico State to a berth in the NCAA Tournament during the 2006-07 campaign (a first for the school since '99). He compiled a 41-23 record in his two years with the Aggies. In his first year at the helm of the NMSU program, Theus guided the Aggies to a tie for the fifth-best turnaround in Division I basketball and the best single-season improvement of any NMSU squad since the 1985-86 season. He turned around a program that went 6-24 the year before he arrived (2004-05), leading the team to a 16-14 record. Theus' Aggies improved to 25-9 in 2006-07, winning the Western Athletic Conference Tournament.

Prior to his NMSU assignment, Theus spent two seasons as an assistant coach at the University of Louisville under Head Coach Rick Pitino. In those two seasons at Louisville, the Cardinals twice advanced to the NCAA Tournament and won the 2005 Conference USA regular season and tournament titles. In 2005, the Cardinals advanced to the Final Four for the first time since the school's national title run in 1986.

Along with being an excellent teacher on the practice floor, Theus was also Louisville's top recruiter, helping the Cardinals sign a handful of the nation's top high school players. He coached current Kings swingman Francisco Garcia at Louisville.

Before turning his attention to the coaching profession, Theus' 13 years as a player in the NBA were spent with the Chicago Bulls, Kansas City/Sacramento Kings, Atlanta Hawks, Orlando Magic and New Jersey Nets. After being drafted by the Bulls as the ninth overall pick in 1978, Theus finished runner-up in the NBA Rookie of the Year voting to Kansas City's Phil Ford and was named to the 1979 All-Rookie team.

Theus played for the Kings for five seasons (1983-84 to 1987-88), averaging 18.8 points, 8.1 assists and 2.8 rebounds per game in 346 contests. He ranks fourth on the Kings' all-time assists list (2,809).

Theus is one of only seven players in NBA history to score at least 19,000 points and dish out 6,000 assists, joining John Havlicek, Oscar Robertson, John Stockton, Gary Payton, Clyde Drexler and Jerry West with that distinction. When Theus retired, he ranked 22nd on the NBA's all-time scoring list with 19,105 career points and 11th on the all-time assists list with 6,453 career assists. Over his 13-year career, Theus averaged 18.5 points, 6.3 assists and 3.3 rebounds a game while being named to the 1981 and 1983 NBA All-Star teams.

In 1992-93, Theus spent one season playing professionally in Italy with Ranger Varese. In 30 games with Ranger, he averaged 29.3 points, 5.4 assists and 3.9 rebounds a game.

After retiring from professional basketball in 1993, Theus spent nearly a decade as an actor and television sports broadcaster. He served as an NBA analyst for Turner Sports and ESPN and was a co-host on the Fox Sports Net program "The Best Damn Sports Show Period."

Theus' extensive acting credits include playing Coach Bill Fuller for three years on NBC's Saturday morning television show "Hang Time."

Theus played his college basketball at UNLV for head coach Jerry Tarkanian from 1976 to 1978. In three seasons with the Runnin' Rebels, he averaged 12.9 points, 4.4 assists and 4.3 rebounds per game. In 1989, Theus was inducted into the UNLV Athletic Hall of Fame and in 1997 he became one of only six players in school history to have his jersey retired by the Rebels.

Along with a successful career as both a player and coach, Theus has also been an influential member of the communities where he and his family have lived. Among the charitable programs which have benefited from Theus' involvement are the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse, spokesperson for the NBA's Stay in School Program and Reggie Theus' Trikes for Kids.

Theus and his wife Elaine have three children; Raquel, Reggie and Rhyan.

KENNY NATT

Assistant Coach

Kenny Natt begins his second season as an assistant coach for the Kings. He had spent the past three seasons as an assistant coach for the Cleveland Cavaliers, helping the Cavaliers reach the 2007 NBA Finals.

Natt, who played for the Kansas City Kings during the 1984-85 season, is reunited with then-teammate and current Sacramento Kings Head Coach Reggie Theus.

Natt has spent the last 28 years working in all facets of professional basketball as a player, administrator and coach. Before joining the Cavaliers' staff, he worked nine seasons under Jerry Sloan with the Utah Jazz. While with Utah, the Jazz made two NBA Finals appearances and the playoffs in eight of his nine seasons there.

Prior to being on the Jazz coaching staff, Natt spent two seasons as a scout for Utah and as an assistant coach at Youngstown State. He also has held positions as an assistant coach/player personnel director for the CBA's Columbus Horizon, a head coach for the Cape Breton Breakers (Nova Scotia) in the Canadian-based National Basketball League and as player personnel director and scout for the World Basketball League.

Drafted out of Northeast Louisiana University (now Louisiana-Monroe) as the 30th selection by the Indiana Pacers in the 1980 NBA Draft, Natt spent three seasons in the NBA playing for Indiana, Utah and Kansas City. During his career, he also played for six CBA teams and two World Basketball League organizations.

Natt was inducted into the Northeast Louisiana State University Hall of Fame in 2003. He earned All-Trans America Conference honors after averaging 20.1 points and 3.5 rebounds per game in his senior season. A four-year letterman, Natt graduated with a degree in business administration. He is the younger brother of Calvin Natt, who played 11 seasons in the NBA. Natt and his wife, Jolene, have two daughters, Ki'Essence and Yazmine.

CHUCK PERSON

Assistant Coach

Chuck Person, regarded as a sharp-shooter during his playing days, enters his second season as a Kings assistant coach after having spent the previous two seasons as an assistant coach for the Indiana Pacers under current Dallas Head Coach Rick Carlisle. Prior to that, he served two seasons as a special assistant to the CEO/president of basketball operations for the franchise, working with Pacers and Indiana Fever (WNBA) players, both on and off the court. He spent one season with the Cleveland Cavaliers before joining the Pacers' coaching staff. Person has been in the NBA for 23 years - 13 as a player, the last 10 in the front office or coaching.

A first round selection (fourth overall) by the Pacers in the 1986 NBA Draft, Person averaged 18.8 points and 8.3 rebounds in his first season and was named NBA Rookie of the Year. He spent six seasons with Indiana and ranks ninth on the team's all-time scoring list with 9,096 points. He recorded 34 points, 12 rebounds and 10 assists against New York on Feb. 20, 1986, becoming the first Pacers rookie in franchise history to record a triple-double. Person also played for Minnesota, San Antonio, Charlotte and Seattle over his 13-year NBA career. His career averages include 14.7 points, 5.1 rebounds and 2.8 assists per game.

A native of Brantley, Alabama, Person attended Auburn University where he finished as the school's all-time scoring leader. Person was an alternate member of the 1984 gold medal winning Olympic team. His brother Wesley, also an Auburn graduate, enjoyed an 11-year NBA career with seven different teams.

Person and his wife, Carmen, are the proud parents of Millicent, Tiffany, Chuck, Niketta, Raven and Jasmine.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

REX KALAMIAN

Assistant Coach

Rex Kalamian enters his second season with the Kings and his 15th year overall in the NBA. He came to Sacramento after working the previous two seasons as an assistant coach with the Minnesota Timberwolves.

Kalamian served as an assistant coach/player development for the Denver Nuggets in 2004-05. He worked as a West Coast scout for the Philadelphia 76ers in 2003-04 prior to joining the staff in Denver.

The bulk of Kalamian's NBA experience was gained working for the Los Angeles Clippers for nine years in various capacities, starting as an assistant to the scouting department in 1992 before being promoted to assistant coach in 1995. In addition to his many responsibilities on the bench, Kalamian prepared scouting reports on upcoming opponents for coaches and players, as well as developing players' skills.

Prior to joining the Clippers, Kalamian was an assistant coach for his former team at East LA College for two seasons where he had played the previous two seasons. He led the South Coast Conference in three-point field goal percentage in the 1988-89 season.

Kalamian graduated from Cal Poly Pomona in 1993 with a bachelor's degree in business management.

JASON HAMM

Assistant Coach

Jason Hamm begins his third season with the Kings' coaching staff as an assistant coach. Prior to coming to Sacramento, Hamm worked as an assistant coach for the Memphis Grizzlies in 2004-05, Dakota Wizards (CBA) in 2003-04 and Golden State (2002-03).

A native of Dallas, Hamm graduated from South Alabama, where he played basketball for the late Bill Musselman as a junior and senior (1996-98). He began his collegiate career at Texas Tech (1993-95) before transferring to South Alabama.

Hamm and his wife, Reina, reside in Granite Bay with their daughter, Reagan and their son, Declan (Deck-Lan).

RANDY BROWN

Assistant Coach

Randy Brown, a 12-year NBA veteran as a player, begins his second season as a Kings assistant coach.

Brown, who was drafted by the Kings in the second round (31st overall) of the 1991 NBA Draft, played four seasons in Sacramento (1991-95). He returned to his hometown of Chicago as free agent before the start of the 1995-96 season and won championship rings with the Bulls in 1996, 1997 and 1998. Brown spent five seasons (1995-00) in Chicago, leading the Bulls in assists during the 1999-00 campaign.

Brown closed out his NBA career by dividing his final three seasons between Boston (2000-02) and Phoenix (2002-03). He amassed career averages of 4.8 points, 2.2 assists and 1.1 assists per game in 655 contests and was regarded as a playmaker who was a defensive specialist.

Brown enjoyed a two-year career at New Mexico State. He played his freshman and sophomore seasons at the University of Houston.

Brown and his wife, Tamara, have three teenage kids, Justin, Janel and Diamond. He enjoys working on puzzles in his spare time and is particularly fond of Sudoku puzzels.

DID YOU KNOW ... Five Kings coaches played in the NBA - Kings Head Coach Reggie Theus, Assistant Coaches Kenny Natt, Chuck Person, Randy Brown and Shareef Abdur-Rahim. Theus (1983-84 - 1987-88), Natt (1984-85), Brown (1991-92 - 1994-95) and Abdur-Rahim (2005-06 - 2006-07) played for the Kings franchise.

BUBBA BURRAGE

Assistant Coach/Advance Scout

Bubba Burrage begins his 15th season with the Kings and his fifth as a Kings assistant coach and his eighth as the Kings' primary advance NBA scout. Burrage spent last season as the team's video coordinator. The 37-year-old native of Oxnard, Calif., spent his first four seasons with the team as video coordinator before splitting time as the team's video coordinator and advance scout for two seasons.

His duties as advance scout require him to travel throughout the country to watch the Kings' upcoming opponents and prepare a detailed scouting report on the upcoming opposition. The scouting report, along with individual and team breakdown video prepared by the Kings' video department, allow the coaching staff to formulate an overall game plan for that opponent. Burrage will also oversee the group of regional advance scouts the Kings will utilize this season on a game-to-game basis.

Burrage graduated with a journalism/public relations degree from Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo) in 1993, where he was a starting forward for the Mustangs' basketball team. Burrage resides in Sacramento with his wife, Keilani, their six-year-old son, Junious Desmond and three-year-old daughter, Kaira Marie.

SHAREEF ABDUR-RAHIM

Assistant Coach

Shareef Abdur-Rahim begins his first season as an assistant coach for the Kings, upon recently retiring a 12-year NBA career as a player due to a recurring knee injury. In his new role, one of his main responsibilities is to work extensively with frontcourt players.

Selected by the Vancouver Grizzlies (now Memphis) as an undergraduate out of California with the third overall pick of the 1996 NBA Draft, Abdur-Rahim's NBA career has spanned 12 seasons with four different teams (Vancouver 1996-97 to 2000-01, Atlanta 2001-02 to 2003-04, Portland 2003-04 to 2004-05 and Sacramento 2005-06 to 2007-08), amassing career averages of 18.1 points (.452 FG%, .297 3FG%, .810 FT%), 7.5 rebounds and 2.5 assists per game in 830 contests. He averaged 20 or more points and seven or more rebounds in five consecutive seasons. Abdur-Rahim was a member of the gold-medal winning United States Olympic team in 2000 while still with the Vancouver Grizzlies. He also was selected to the Eastern Conference NBA All-Star Team in 2002.

On December 28, 2002, Abdur-Rahim became the sixth-youngest player in NBA history to reach the 10,000-point plateau at age 26, trailing only Kobe Bryant, Bob McAdoo, Shaquille O'Neal, Michael Jordan and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar with that distinction. He scored a career-high 50 points versus Detroit on November 23, 2001, becoming the first Hawks player to hit that mark since Dominique Wilkins poured in 52 points in 1991.

Abdur-Rahim has a long-standing history of community service involvement. He was named by The Sporting News as the NBA's Number 1 Good Guy for 2004 after funding the Reef House in Atlanta through his Atlanta-based Future Foundation with the purpose of assisting at-risk and underprivileged youth.

Abdur-Rahim and his wife Delicia live with their six-year-old son, Jabri Shareef, and four-year-old daughter, Samiyah.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

JERRY REYNOLDS

Director, Player Personnel

In his 24th season with the Kings organization, Jerry Reynolds serves as the club's director, player personnel. He was named to the position in July of 1994 after serving two seasons as the team's general manager. Reynolds is responsible for keeping abreast of both the professional and collegiate talent pools available to the Kings, while also helping to oversee the club's scouting efforts.

Reynolds, who wears many hats within the organization, retired from his post as general manager of the WNBA's Sacramento Monarchs following the 2003 season. In his six seasons as the club's general manager, the Monarchs qualified for the league playoffs four times. Reynolds was a member of the USA Basketball Women's Senior National Team Committee for the 2001-04 quadrennium, where he helped select the coaching staff and players of the Olympic gold medal-winning USA Senior National Teams.

Reynolds is also a member of the Kings Broadcast Network talent team, working as a color analyst for all the club's televised contests.

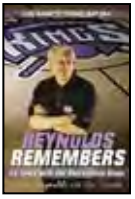
A native of French Lick, Indiana (where he is often referred to as the second most popular local, first being NBA Hall of Famer Larry Bird), Reynolds has a unique understanding of the interaction among players, coaches and the front office due in part to his experience gained through his varied roles with the Kings organization. He originally joined the club in 1985 as an assistant coach responsible for advance pro and college scouting.

On two occasions Reynolds served as the Kings' head coach following midseason changes. In 1987, he was named, on an interim basis, to replace former Head Coach Phil Johnson. The following year he took over for Bill Russell with 24 games remaining and stayed on as the club's head coach for the next two seasons. All told, Reynolds served as head coach of the Kings for a portion of four seasons (1987-1990). He also served as the director of player personnel for two seasons (1990-92) before accepting the role as the club's general manager (5/92-12/93).

An extremely popular figure with both the Sacramento community and the national media, Reynolds is an often-requested favorite on the public speaking circuit. A graduate of Oakland City University (Indiana) in 1966, he received his master's degree in physical education from Indiana State University in 1970.

Reynolds and his wife, Dodie, reside in Roseville and have a daughter, Danielle, a graduate of Santa Monica College and son, Jay, a 1992 graduate of Sacramento State University.

DID YOU KNOW ... Jerry Reynolds and Don Drysdale, who covered the Kings from 1985 to 1994 for the Sacramento Union, collaborated to write Reynolds Remembers, a 192-page book that covers the Kings through the eyes of Reynolds.



SCOTTY STIRLING

Director, Scouting

A veteran of the professional basketball ranks for more than three decades, Scotty Stirling brings a wealth of NBA knowledge and professional sports expertise to the Kings' basketball operations staff.

Having worked in the Kings organization for the past 22 years, Stirling is in his 20th season as the club's director of scouting. In his current role, Stirling is responsible for coordinating the club's collegiate scouting efforts.

Prior to joining the Kings, Stirling served as vice president and general manager of the New York Knicks from January 1986 through May 1987. For three seasons (1982-85) he held the position of vice president of operations with the NBA where he supervised referees, administered rule implementation, supervised game scheduling and headed the league's collegiate scouting service.

From 1976 through 1982, Stirling was the assistant to the president of the Golden State Warriors, responsible for the club's day-to-day operation and player personnel decisions. He also was the general manager of the Oakland Oaks of the American Basketball Association when the team won the 1968 ABA title.

Stirling's pro sports experience included five seasons with the Oakland Raiders of the National Football League, first as the club's assistant general manager, then as the general manager, working closely with current Raiders owner Al Davis. In his final year with the club, the Raiders won the AFL Championship and met Green Bay in Super Bowl II.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco, Stirling earned a master's degree from Adelphi University. Stirling resides in Newark, California, with his wife, Pam.

JACK MAI

Assistant Director of Scouting

Jack Mai enters third year as the Kings' assistant director of scouting and his eighth year with the organization. His primary role is to assist Vice President of Basketball Operations Wayne Cooper and Director of Scouting Scotty Stirling in all phases of the Kings' college and international scouting efforts.

Prior to joining the Kings, Mai spent a year-and-a-half as head coach of Luckipar, a professional team in Taiwan. He also served as the club's general manager for three years before taking over the head coaching duties. Mai was a member of Taiwan's national team coaching staff, which received a silver medal in the 2001 East Asian Games in Osaka. He also has garnered valuable experience working as a Nike consultant for Asia for five years. Mai began his coaching career at California State University, Dominguez Hills where he was an assistant coach for three years.

Mai earned a bachelor's degree in marketing from the University of Southern California in 1982. He and his wife, Janice, reside in Rocklin, with their six-year-old son, Jaden and three-year-old daughter, Jaclyn.

KEITH DRUM

Regional Scout

Keith Drum is in his 14th season as a regional scout for the Kings. His responsibilities include collegiate scouting and player evaluation. Additionally, Drum is part of the Kings' training camp and NBA Draft preparation staff. Prior to his tenure with the club, Drum served in a similar capacity with the Portland Trail Blazers (1989-90 - 1994-95). While in Portland, Drum worked with current Kings basketball operations staff members Geoff Petrie and Wayne Cooper.

Before joining the NBA scouting ranks, Drum worked 20 years in newspaper journalism. He spent three years as a college basketball writer for United Press International and was a staff member of the Durham Morning Herald (N.C.).

A native of Catawba County, North Carolina, Drum studied journalism and political science while attending the University of North Carolina. Drum resides in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, with his wife, Barbara.

MIKE PETRIE

Regional Scout

Mike Petrie enters his third season as a Kings regional scout after working the previous three seasons as the Kings' video scout. Prior to being the video scout, Petrie spent three seasons as the Kings' assistant video coordinator. The 32-year-old native of Lake Oswego, Oregon, will scout all college and all NBA approved games and tournaments related to the team's ongoing current and future draft preparations. Petrie will also continue to be involved in the Kings' team video management.

Petrie graduated with a speech communications degree from Oregon State University in 2000. He and his wife, Traci, reside in Rocklin with their son, Preston.

STEVE SHUMAN

Minor League Scout

Steve Shuman enters his third season as the team's minor league scout after working the previous six seasons as the Kings' video coordinator. In addition to working as the Kings' video coordinator, Shuman also did advance scouting for four seasons. Shuman worked the previous three years as the team's assistant video coordinator. A native of Long Beach, Shuman is also an assistant coach for the WNBA's Sacramento Monarchs.

Shuman is responsible for scouting all minor league professional basketball, including the NBDL, CBA and ABA. In addition, he will be involved in scouting various college games.

Shuman graduated with an education degree from Sacramento State University in 1989. He was an assistant basketball coach at Jesuit High School in Sacramento (1989-91) before serving as head coach at Trinity High School in Las Vegas for six years (1991-97).

DID YOU KNOW ... Approximately 2,300 deserving fans benefited from the "Kings for the Community" program last season. "Kings for the Community" enables special groups and children from underserved communities in the area to attend a Kings home game courtesy of Kings players, President Geoff Petrie and Head Coach Reggie Theus.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

ANDREA GRACIS

International Scout

Andrea Gracis enters his third season as the Kings' international scout. His primary role is to scout and evaluate players in the European leagues. Prior to joining the Kings, Gracis worked as a consultant for Interperformances, a full-service agency specializing in the representation of professional athletes. In addition, Gracis worked as a manager and scout for Benetton Treviso, the same club in which he served as captain in the last three years of his playing career before retiring from professional basketball in 1997.

Gracis has almost two decades of playing experience in the Italian First Division, having won three Italian Championships (1987-88, 1989-90, 1996-97), three Italian Cups (1985, 1990, 1995), one European Cup (1995) and one Italian Super Cup (1997). Voted as MVP of the 1990 Playoffs, Gracis was also the best three-point and free throw shooter in the 1990-91 regular season. A 93-time Italian National team selection, Gracis won the silver medal at the 1991 European Championship, as well as the gold medal at the 1982 World Military Championship.

Gracis was born and raised in Treviso, Italy where he currently resides with his son Alessio (20) and daughter Martina (17).

LAFAYETTE "FAT" LEVER

Director of Player Development

Lafayette Lever enters his second season with the Kings as director of player development after years of being involved with NBA-based programs such as NBA Cares and Legends of Basketball.

As the team's player development director, Lever is responsible for helping younger players with the transition from college to the NBA. As part of his duties, Lever helps coordinate with NBA representatives of the Rookie Transition Program (RTP) in which a team's draft selections travel to New York to help acclamate them to the league. Lever also works on the Kings' broadcast team as a studio co-host.

An 11-year NBA veteran, Lever, who was originally selected by the Portland Trail Blazers in the first round of the 1982 NBA Draft (11th overall) out of the Arizona State, was considered one of the league's best point guards in the late 80's while playing for the Denver Nuggets.

Lever played two years for the Trail Blazers before being traded to Denver prior to the beginning of the 1984-85 season. He enjoyed a six-year career with the Nuggets in which he finished as the franchise's leader in all-time steals and second in career assists. Lever's best year, statistically, occurred during the 1988-89 campaign when he averaged 19.8 points, 9.3 rebounds and 7.9 assists per game for Denver.

Lever's last three NBA seasons were spent playing for the Dallas Mavericks (1990-92 and 1993-94). He amassed career averages of 13.9 points, 6.0 rebounds, 6.2 assists and 2.22 steals per game in 752 outings. Lever is one of only three players in NBA history to record 15-plus points, rebounds and assists in a single playoff game (the others being Jason Kidd and Wilt Chamberlain). He played in two NBA All-Star Games (1988 and 1990) and was selected to the All-NBA Second Team in 1987 and All-Defensive Second Team in 1988.

His main responsibility is to assist athletic trainer Pete Youngman in all areas, including injury management, injury prevention, injury rehabilitation and emergency procedures on the court as well as serving as liaison between the doctors, team and players.

Prior to joining the Kings, Romero worked seven seasons as a part of the Los Angeles Lakers training staff. During his time with the Lakers, he also worked at a high school outreach program through three different hospitals (Daniel Freeman, Orthopedic and USC). The program provided athletic trainers and the use of facilities to local high schools that were not provided such advancements. Romero was also the head athletic trainer for the ABA's LA Stars. During the summer of 2002, he served as trainer for the World Championship Yugoslavian national team.

Romero earned a bachelor's degree from Loyola Marymount University and a master's degree from the California University of Pennsylvania. He is a certified performance enhancement specialist from the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM) and has mentored under Alex McKechnie, a world-renown physiotherapist from Vancouver B.C. known for his philosphies in core stability.

Romero, his wife Vanessa and son Diego reside in Roseville.

DANIEL SHAPIRO

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Daniel Shapiro begins his fourth season as the Kings' strength and conditioning coach. He is responsible for designing and implementing the club's strength and conditioning programs, while working closely with the training staff and doctors in monitoring player nutritional needs and injury rehabilitation.

Shapiro spent two seasons at the University of Dayton as the head strength and conditioning coach for the men's and women's basketball teams before signing on with the Kings. His previous work experience includes a seven-year association with the Seattle Sonics as the assistant strength and conditioning coach under Dwight Daub. During his stay with the Sonics, Shapiro doubled his duties with the organization and worked as the head strength and conditioning coach for the Seattle Storm of the WNBA.

A native of Newcastle, Washington, Shapiro earned a bachelor's degree in exercise science and master's degree in physical education, both from Seattle Pacific University. He has his CSCS (Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist) from the National Strength and Conditioning Association and is a certified performance enhancement specialist from the National Academy of Sports Medicine (NASM).

JIMMY DUBA

Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach

Jimmy Duba begins his first full season as the Kings' assistant strength and conditioning coach. Duba also serves as the Monarchs' strength and conditioning coach. He is responsible for developing and monitoring the players' weight training and conditioning program during the regular season as well as the off-season. In addition, he works closely with the training staff to monitor rehabilitation on all player injuries.

Prior to Maloof Sports & Entertainment, Duba spent two years (2006-2008) as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Connecticut, assisting men's and women's basketball, men's and women's soccer, and also served as the head strength coach for baseball and women's volleyball. Duba also has held stints as a strength and conditioning intern with the Chicago Bulls and as the strength and conditioning coach for the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse women's soccer team.

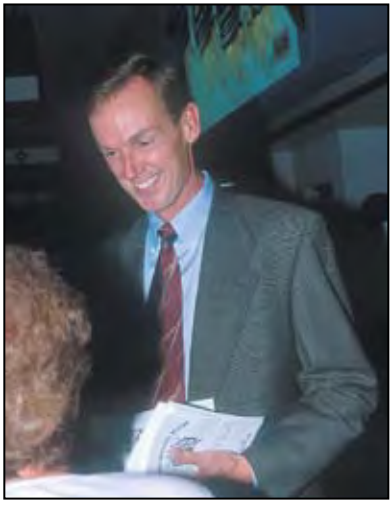
A native of Kenosha, Wis., Duba is a 2006 graduate of the UW-La Crosse and received his MA from the University of Connecticut in 2008.

MANAGEMENT TEAM

JOHN THOMAS

President

When the Maloof family arrived in Sacramento 10 years ago, they needed someone to lead the new management team of Maloof Sports & Entertainment and their search started and ended with John Thomas. Combining a proven successful management style with an energetic work ethic, Thomas is the president of the Sacramento Kings (NBA), Sacramento Monarchs (WNBA) and ARCO Arena.



Thomas brings a wealth of experience to the Maloof Sports & Entertainment team, having worked as a professional sports executive for the past 20 years. As president, his tasks are wide-ranging and include the development and implementation of an annual operating plan while overseeing all aspects of the organization, including team and arena ticket sales and marketing, strategic alliances and brand development, arena operations, food and beverage sales, merchandise sales and the company's community service efforts.

He serves on the Boards of Directors for the Sacramento Convention & Visitors Bureau and the Sacramento Metro Chamber, as well as Valley Vision's Leadership Council, the Wells Fargo Community Advisory Board (CAB) and the NBA's Team Advisory Committee (TAC).

TOM HUNT

Senior Vice President, Strategic Alliances

Tom Hunt enters his fourth year with Maloof Sports & Entertainment as the senior vice president of strategic alliances. One of his main responsibilities is building corporate relationships for the company.

Prior to signing on with MS&E, Hunt spent 11 years with Turner Broadcasting in New York and Atlanta, solving client challenges and building strategic alliances with advertising partners for TNT, TBS, Cartoon Network and World Championship Wrestling. He also has previous experience working for the Oakland A's, Miami Dolphins and the World Wrestling Federation.

Hunt earned his bachelor's degree from UC Berkley and a master's degree from Ohio University in sports administration. He and his wife, Kasha, have three girls, Madigan (7), Keely (6) and Ava (3).

JOHN RINEHART

Senior Vice President, Business Operations

John Rinehart enters his ninth season with Maloof Sports & Entertainment and fourth as senior vice president, business operations. Prior to taking on his current role, Rinehart served as vice president of finance for five years. In his role, Rinehart oversees all financial accounting and business operations of the Kings, Monarchs and ARCO Arena. His responsibilities include contract negotiation, player contract compliance and analysis (NBA Tax and Escrow system), financial analysis, financial reporting, budgeting, financing administration, arena programming and services, legal affairs, insurance and tax requirements. Additionally, Rinehart is responsible for the company's human resources, information systems, purchasing, ticket services and box office and relationship marketing departments.

Prior to joining the Kings, Rinehart spent two years as the director of finance for Anaheim Sports, Inc., where he oversaw the finance and accounting functions of the Anaheim Angels (MLB), Anaheim Mighty Ducks (NHL) and Edison International Field of Anaheim. He also spent two seasons as manager of financial reporting for the San Francisco Giants (MLB). Prior to beginning his career in professional sports, Rinehart spent five years with the public accounting firm Price Waterhouse Coopers LLP in San Francisco.

2007-08 REGULAR SEASON & INDIVIDUAL NOTES

REGULAR SEASON: In his NBA rookie coaching season, Reggie Theus guided the Kings to a 38-44 record in the 60th season in franchise history and the 23rd in the Sacramento-era ... The Kings' home sellout streak ended at 354 games ... Sacramento shot .798 from the free throw line (third best in the NBA), marking a new single-season Sacramento-era record ... For the ninth time in the last 10 seasons, the Kings averaged over 100 points per game (102.5 ppg) ... The Kings made two 20-point comebacks to win, rallying from a 23-point third quarter deficit to defeat Miami, 120-109, on March 2 at ARCO Arena and a 20-point second quarter deficit to overcome Seattle, 104-98, in the home opener on November 6.

2007-08 INDIVIDUAL NOTES: Kevin Martin made 502 free throws during the 2007-08 season, surpassing the Sacramento-era single-season mark he set the previous season ... Martin led the team in scoring for the second straight season with a career-best 23.7 ppg, ranking sixth in the NBA ... On February 16, Mike Bibby was traded to Atlanta in exchange for Anthony Johnson, Tyronn Lue, Shelden Williams, Lorenzen Wright, and a 2008 second-round draft pick ... Brad Miller was named Western Conference Player of the Week for games played January 30 - February 3, posting two 20-point, 20-rebound games ... Ron Artest recorded a team-high 133 steals, finishing second in the NBA in steals per game (2.33 spg).

* new Sacramento-era record
 ties Sacramento-era record

DID YOU KNOW ... En route to a career-high 48 points, Kevin Martin went 22-of-24 from the free throw line on March 7 versus Minnesota, setting new Sacramento era single-game records for most free throws made and attempted in a game. Of his 22 makes, 15 came in the second half, setting a new ARCO Arena record and tying the Sacramento-era record set by current Head Coach Reggie Theus. Martin's 17 second-half attempts set a new ARCO Arena mark for most attempts in a half.

FRANCHISE HISTORY

HISTORY OF OWNERSHIP

The Sacramento Kings begin their ninth season under the ownership efforts of the Maloof family, which took over control of the Kings and ARCO Arena on July 1, 1999. The Maloofs succeeded Jim Thomas, who had owned the franchise since April 6, 1992.

The Maloof family's interest in purchasing the Kings, Monarchs (WNBA) and ARCO Arena originated in 1997 when they contacted Thomas regarding the availability of the teams and arena. On January 14, 1998, the Maloofs completed the purchase of a minority limited partnership in the organization's franchises and ARCO Arena. On January 15, 1999, the Maloofs subsequently purchased controlling interest, effective July 1, 1999. The NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the ownership transfer on May 7, 1999, in New York, at which time the Board of Governors appointed Joe Maloof to the Board.

The Kings franchise made its NBA debut in 1948 as the Rochester Royals under the ownership of Les Harrison. Harrison also served as the club's head coach for the first seven seasons, and in 1951 he guided the Royals to the first and only NBA World Championship title in franchise history. The team was moved to Cincinnati in 1957 where one year later it became a public corporation. In 1966, brothers Max and Jeremy Jacobs purchased the club and maintained ownership through the team's move to Kansas City in 1972-73.

LES HARRISON

A group of 10 Kansas City-based businessmen purchased the club in 1973 for an excess of $5 million. The same group held proprietorship through May of 1982 when ownership was restructured so that only three partners remained, Leon Karosen, H. Paul Rosenberg, and Robert J. Margolin. Three months later, three New York-based businessmen joined the Kansas City ownership group.

On June 8, 1983, the Kings were sold to a local business group that is responsible for bringing NBA basketball to the Capitol City, as Joseph Benvenuti, Frank and Gregg Lukenbill, Bob A. Cook, Frank McCormick, and Stephen H. Cippa purchased the Kansas City Kings for approximately $10.5 million. In January of 1985, the group petitioned the NBA Board of Governors for permission to move the franchise to Sacramento. Nine months later, the Kings' Sacramento-era began as the club played its first-ever contest before a sold out crowd at the temporary ARCO Arena site.

Twenty-three NBA seasons later, the club continues to play before large crowds in an ARCO Arena building constructed by the Lukenbill-Benvenuti ownership group.

NICKNAME & LOGO TRANSITION

The Rochester National Basketball League franchise was originally nicknamed the Royals in 1946 after 15-year-old Richard Paeth's entry beat out 500 other suggestions in a name the team contest. For his winning entry, Paeth, a native of Rochester, received a $100 Victory Bond from team president/manager Les Harrison. When the franchise moved to Cincinnati before the 1957-58 campaign, the ownership decided to maintain the Royals moniker. However, when the franchise moved to Kansas City prior to the 1972-73 season, it needed a new nickname because the name Royals was already being used by the city's Major League Baseball team. Wanting to keep the "Royal" theme, the club decided on the nickname of Kings.

On May 22, 1994, the Sacramento Kings unveiled the franchise's current primary logo, home and road uniforms, and team colors. The changes marked the first major alteration from the crown and ball logo which had been the franchise's trademark since the club resided in Cincinnati. Following is a chronological look at the evolution of the Kings' primary logo over the franchise's 59-year history:

Team Notes

- With the seventh overall pick in the 1985 NBA Draft (June 18), the Kings made Arkansas forward Joe Kleine the club's first draft selection in the Sacramento era.
- On August 20, 1985, the Atlantic Richfield Company (ARCO) and the Sacramento Sports Association, owners of the Kings and the Sacramento Sports Arena, agreed to a 10-year sponsorship contract which included naming the facility ARCO Arena.
- On October 25, 1985, the LA Clippers defeated the Kings, 108-104, before a sold out crowd of 10,333 at ARCO Arena in the first regular season professional basketball game played in Sacramento.
- Kings clinched a berth in the Western Conference playoffs on April 5, 1986 with a 119-110 victory versus Phoenix.
- On April 22, 1986, in the third game of a first round Western Conference playoff matchup, the Houston Rockets defeated the Kings, 113-98, before a standing room only crowd at ARCO Arena. The Rockets went on to defeat the Kings, 3-0, in the series and advance to the NBA Finals before losing, 4-2, to the Boston Celtics.

Team Notes

- Prior to the 1986-87 campaign, Kings officials announced the franchise had achieved a season ticket base of 9,600.
- Second-year forward Otis Thorpe received EDGE/NBA Player of the Week honors (Jan. 11-18) after averaging 23.3 ppg on .685 field goal shooting in leading the team to victories over Portland (120-118) and Seattle (125-115).
- With a 14-32 record, Head Coach Phil Johnson and Assistant Coach Frank Hamblen were relieved of their duties on February 9, 1987. Assistant Coach Jerry Reynolds was named interim head coach and former Kings guard Don Buse was named interim assistant coach.
- On April 22, 1987, the NBA Board of Governors granted the Kings a one-year extension on their request to delay completion of ARCO Arena II until the 1988-89 season. A divisional realignment was also announced, moving the Kings from the Midwest Division into the Pacific Division, beginning in 1988-89.
- On April 27, 1987, the Kings named NBA Hall of Fame center Bill Russell as head coach, effective June 1, 1987. Willis Reed joined the staff as an assistant coach on May 23, 1986.
- On May 19, 1987, Sacramento Basketball Banquet I was held honoring local high school, junior college, and collegiate basketball players and coaches, including California standout guard and Sacramento High School graduate Kevin Johnson. Otis Thorpe was selected by the media as the Kings Player of the Year. Jim Pollard was chosen as the California Basketball Legend and Indiana University Head Coach Bobby Knight was the keynote speaker.
- With the sixth overall selection in the 1987 NBA Draft, the Kings selected North Carolina guard Kenny Smith.

Team Notes

- In his Sacramento coaching debut (Nov. 6, 1987), Bill Russell guided the Kings to a 134-106 victory over the Golden State Warriors at ARCO Arena.
- On February 29, 1988, Assistant Coach Willis Reed resigned from his post with the Kings to accept the head coaching duties with the New Jersey Nets.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a reorganization of the Kings basketball staff on March 7, 1988. Head Coach Bill Russell, with a 17-41 record, was named vice president of basketball operations, Assistant Coach Jerry Reynolds was named head coach, and General Manager Joe Axelson was named vice president of business operations. Reynolds immediately chose former Kings coach Phil Johnson as his assistant. That evening, the Kings defeated the Denver Nuggets, 116-114, in overtime at ARCO Arena.
- Guard Kenny Smith earned All-Rookie honors after averaging 13.8 ppg, 2.3 rpg, and a team-leading 7.1 apg.
- In a Draft Day trade (June 28, 1988), the Kings acquired Atlanta's 1988 first-round draft choice (#18 overall) and guard Randy Wittman in exchange for guard Reggie Theus and the Kings' 1988 third-round choice. With the No. 18 pick, the Kings selected San Jose State guard Ricky Berry.

Team Notes

- On November 8, 1988, the long awaited debut of ARCO Arena II became a reality when the Kings hosted the Seattle SuperSonics, losing 97-75 before a sold-out crowd of 16,517. NBA Commissioner David Stern participated in the dedication cermony.
- Midway through the fourth quarter of the Kings-Trail Blazers contest on December 27, 1988, Head Coach Jerry Reynolds collapsed on the sidelines. He lay unconscious for several minutes before doctors revived him and immediately transported him to Sutter Memorial Hospital for further observation. Doctors dismissed cardiac problems, diagnosing the cause of the fainting and dizziness due to a sudden postural change. Reynolds missed the following night's game in Utah, but returned to practice two days later.
- On February 20, 1989, the Kings acquired Indiana forward Wayman Tisdale and the Pacers' 1990 second-round draft choice in exchange for forward LaSalle Thompson and guard Randy Wittman.
- On May 21, 1989, Sacramento won the NBA Lottery's grand prize by receiving the first overall pick in the 1989 NBA Draft. Approximately one month later (June 27), the Kings selected 6-10 Louisville center Pervis Ellison with the No. 1 choice.

Team Notes

- On August 14, 1989, guard Ricky Berry was found dead in his home from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, just months after the conclusion of a rookie campaign in which he averaged 11.0 ppg, 3.1 rpg, and 1.3 apg.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a reorganization of the club's management and basketball staff on December 19, 1990. Executive Vice President of Business Operations Rick Benner was named president of the Kings and ARCO Arena. Head Coach Jerry Reynolds assumed the position of director of player personnel and would eventually relinquish his coaching position. Bill Russell was released from his position as vice president of basketball operations.
- On January 4, 1990, NBA veteran Dick Motta, the third-winningest head coach in NBA history, replaced Reynolds as the Kings head coach. Reynolds compiled a 56-114 (.330) record in three stints as Kings head coach.
- Kings guard Kenny Smith finished second to Atlanta's Dominique Wilkins in the Gatorade Slam Dunk contest during NBA All-Star Weekend in Miami. Smith's appearance marked only the second time since the club moved to Sacramento in 1985 a player represented the Kings in the All-Star festivities. (Terry Tyler in '86 slam dunk contest was the first).
- The Kings made NBA history at the 1990 NBA Draft (June 27, 1990), becoming the first team to select four first-round draft choices—LaSalle forward Lionel Simmons (#7 overall), Texas guard Travis Mays (#14 overall), Temple center Duane Causwell (#18 overall) and St. Louis forward Anthony Bonner (#23 overall).

Team Notes

- Forward Lionel Simmons was named Rookie of the Month for December, averaging 13.6 ppg, 7.4 rpg, and 4.6 apg for the month.
- On January 10, 1991, the Kings lost 101-59 at Charlotte, marking the lowest scoring output by a team since February 27, 1955 when Milwaukee scored 57 points at Boston.
- Simmons received the NBA Player of the Week award (Feb. 10-17) after leading the Kings to a 2-1 record for the week by averaging 33.3 ppg (.563 FG, .833 FT), 11.7 rpg, and 4.7 apg.
- Simmons was honored with his second Rookie of the Month award after averaging 24.1 ppg, 11.7 rpg, and 4.5 apg in 11 games in February.
- With a 112-94 loss at Minnesota on April 15, 1991, the Kings set an NBA record for consecutive road losses (35).
- Kings closed out the 1990-91 road schedule with a 127-105 loss at Portland on April 19, 1991, extending the club's NBA record for consecutive road losses to 37.
- Lionel Simmons finished second to New Jersey's Derrick Coleman in Rookie of the Year balloting. Simmons was a consensus first-team All-Rookie selection, while teammate Travis Mays was named to the second team.

Team Notes

- On July 1, 1991, the Kings acquired 5-7 point guard Spud Webb and the Hawks' 1994 second-round draft pick in exchange for guard Travis Mays.
- On the eve of the 1991-92 season (Nov. 1), the Kings acquired Golden State guard Mitch Richmond, center Les Jepsen, and the Warriors' 1995 second-round draft choice in exchange for unsigned 1991 draft pick Billy Owens (#3 overall).
- On November 23, 1991, the Kings defeated Orlando, 95-93, ending an NBA record 43-game road losing streak.
- After opening the season with a 7-18 record, Head Coach Dick Motta was fired from his post on December 24, 1991. Assistant Coach Rex Hughes was named interim head coach and Kings regional scout and former player Mike Bratz was named interim assistant coach. Motta was 48-113 (.298) in his stay with the Kings.
- On April 6, 1992, a prominent group of Los Angeles based real estate developers purchased 53 percent of the franchise and ARCO Arena for $140 million. The group was headed by Jim Thomas of Maguire-Thomas Partners, one of the nation's largest investment builders, and included Eli Broad, Robert Maguire III, Ned Fox Jr. and Richard Gilchirst.
- On May 22, 1992, the club announced the promotion of Director of Player Personnel Jerry Reynolds to general manager and the hiring of Garry St. Jean as the 17th head coach in franchise history. Mike Schuler and Dave Wohl were named assistant coaches.

Team Notes

- Kings closed out the 45th season in franchise history with a record of 25-57 (16-25 home, 9-32 away).
- Defeated San Antonio, 114-106, on Opening Night (11/6/92) at ARCO Arena in Garry St. Jean's head coaching debut.
- Snapped a 43-game regular season losing streak at the Great Western Forum that dated back to 1974 with a 124-114 win over the Lakers.
- Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since 1981 to be named to an All-Star Game squad. However, Richmond was unable to participate in the contest due to a fractured right thumb suffered versus Atlanta (2/11/93).
- Guard-forward Walt Williams earned second-team All-Rookie honors after averaging 17.0 ppg, 4.5 rpg, 3.0 apg, and 1.12 spg.
- Club lost 150 player games to injury over the course of the campaign, including 115 in the final 50 games of the season. Of the 150 player games lost to injury, 95 came to Opening Night starters Mitch Richmond (37), Duane Causwell (26), Lionel Simmons (13), Spud Webb (13) and Wayman Tisdale (6).
- Defeated Dallas, 139-81, at ARCO Arena, marking the largest margin of victory (58 points) in franchise history (12/29/92). Just four nights later (1/2/93), the Kings defeated Philadelphia by 56 points, 154-98, at ARCO Arena to register the largest margins of victory in back-to-back games in NBA history.

Team Notes

- Kings posted a 28-54 record in 1993-94, a three-game improvement over the 1992-93 campaign (25-57).
- Sacramento finished ahead of the Los Angeles Clippers (27-55) in the Pacific Division standings, marking the first time since 1988-89 that the Kings did not finish at the bottom of their division.
- Guard Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since Otis Birdsong in 1980-81 to earn All-NBA honors when he was voted to the second team. Richmond ranked seventh in the NBA in scoring (23.4 ppg) in the regular season, while also averarging 3.7 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.32 spg.
- Richmond also became the first Kings player since Nate Archibald in 1975 and the eighth in franchise history to start an NBA All-Star Game, tallying 10 points, two rebounds, and three assists in 24 minutes for the West squad in the 44th Annual affair in Minneapolis, MN.
- Kings were stricken by the injury bug throughout the season, losing 226 player games to injury or illness, the third highest total in the NBA in 1993-94 and the second most in the Sacramento-era. The rash of injuries forced Head Coach Garry St. Jean to utilize 20 different starting combinations over the course of the season.

Team Notes

- Kings registered a 39-43 regular-season record, marking the franchise's most victories in a season since 1982-83 (45-37). Sacramento finished fifth in the Pacific Division, and missed advancing to the NBA Playoffs by just one game after falling 102-89 at Denver (4/23/95) on the final day of the regular season in a winner-take-all battle for the eighth and final Western Conference Playoff berth.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Second-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 22.8 ppg, 4.4 rpg, 3.8 apg, and 1.11 spg. Richmond's 22.8 ppg led all guards in scoring and ranked eighth in the NBA.

- Richmond was named MVP of the 45th Annual All-Star Game in Phoenix, scoring a game-high 23 points (10-13 FG, 3-3 3pt, 0-0 FT) with four rebounds and two assists in only 22 minutes off the bench to lead the Western Conference to a 139-112 victory over the East. The 10-for-13 (.769) shooting performance is the third best in All-Star history.

- Forward Brian Grant was named to the NBA's First-Team All-Rookie squad, averaging 13.2 ppg (.511 FG%), 7.5 rpg, and 1.45 bpg. Grant earned Schick Rookie of the Month honors for January after averaging 15.8 ppg (.511 FG%), 9.7 rpg, and 2.13 bpg in helping lead the Kings to a 9-6 mark.

Team Notes

- Kings closed out the 49th season in franchise history and the 12th in the Sacramento-era with a regular-season record of 34-48, finishing sixth in the Pacific Division and ninth overall in the Western Conference. The 34 victories were the fourth most in the Sacramento-era. With a 22-19 mark at ARCO Arena, the Kings posted a winning record at home for the third straight season.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Second-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 25.9 ppg, 3.9 rpg, 4.2 apg, and 1.46 spg. Richmond ranked fourth in the NBA in scoring while also ranking 34th in assists, 34th in steals, fifth in three-point percentage, 14th in free throw percentage, and 22nd in minutes.

- Eddie Jordan took over the head coaching reins from Garry St. Jean on 3/20/97. The Kings posted a 6-9 mark under Jordan, including a late playoff run in which the club registered a 5-3 mark in the final eight games of the season. St. Jean compiled a 159-236 (.402) record in five seasons as Kings head coach (1992-93 — 1996-97).

- Kings accepted a $70 million dollar loan from the City of Sacramento and a revised signage and promotional package from ARCO Products Company to remain in Sacramento on 2/18/97.

Team Notes

- Kings closed out the 50th season in franchise history and the 13th in the Sacramento-era with a regular-season record of 27-55, finishing fifth in the Pacific Division and ninth overall in the Western Conference. With a 21-20 mark at ARCO Arena, the Kings posted a winning record at home for the fourth straight season.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Third-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 23.2 ppg, 3.3 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.26 spg. Richmond ranked fourth in the NBA in scoring while also ranking 35th in assists, 28th in three-point percentage, 10th in free throw percentage, 40th in steals, and 30th in minutes.

- The Maloof family of Albuquerque, New Mexico acquired a minority limited partnership in the team and ARCO Arena on 1/14/98.

Team Notes

- Rick Adelman was named head coach prior to the 1998-99 campaign (9/17/98) after Eddie Jordan was relieved of his head coaching duties on August 18, 1998. Jordan posted a 33-64 record (.340) as head coach of the Kings.
- The Maloof Family announced their controlling interest purchase of the Kings and ARCO Arena on January 15, 1999. The official ownership transaction took effect on July 1, 1999, after the NBA Board of Governors approved the sale on May 7, 1999.

	May	5	Sacramento	86	@	LA Lakers	113

Team Notes

- The Kings closed out the 52nd season in franchise history and the 15th in the Sacramento-era with a regular-season record of 44-38 overall (30-11 home, 14-27 road), finishing fifth in the Pacific Division and securing the eighth seed in the Western Conference Playoffs.

- The team's 44 victories marked the most wins in the Sacramento era and the most since the 1982-83 Kansas City Kings posted a 45-37 record. The 14 road wins were also a Sacramento-era record, the most wins away from home since the 1982-83 Kings won 15 road contests.

Team Notes

- Kings finished fifth in the Pacific Division, compiling a 33-49 regular season record. Sacramento's eight consecutive seasons of advancing to the playoffs ended.

- Sacramento led the league in free throw attempts per game (30.2) and free throws attempted (2,473). The Kings were also ranked third in the NBA in steals per game (8.18 spg), fourth in forcing turnovers (16.3 tpg) and fifth in points off turnovers (18.7 ppg).

- Kevin Martin finished second in the voting for the NBA's Most Improved Player behind Golden State's Monta Ellis. Martin led the Kings in scoring (20.2 ppg), field goals made (505), three-point percentage (.381), free throws made (481) and attempted (570). His 481 free throws made set a new Sacramento era record for most free throws made in a single season and his 570 attempts is second-best in the Sacramento era. Martin made 18 free throws at Indiana on 2/25/07, setting a new Sacramento era record for most free throws made in a game.

- Mike Bibby dished out his 4,000th career assist on 1/20/07 at Detroit, becoming the 61st player in the NBA to record 10,000 points and 4,000 assists in a career. Bibby set a new franchise record with nine three-pointers on 3/25/07 vs. Phoenix.

Team Notes

- Kings finished fourth in the Pacific Division, compiling a 38-44 regular season record.

- Sacramento ranked third in the league in free throw percentage (.798) and seventh in steals per game (7.94 spg). Kevin Martin led the team in scoring (23.7 ppg) and placed sixth in the NBA. Ron Artest finished second in the league in steals for the second straight season (2.33 spg).

- Martin established a new single-season record for most free throws made in a season (502), eclipsing the mark he set in 2006-07 (481). He also made 16 straight free throws in the game against Memphis (3/26/08). Versus Minnesota (3/7/08), Martin scored a career-high 48 points, going 22-of-24 from the free throw line, setting new ARCO Arena and Sacramento-era records for free throws made and attempted.

LES HARRISON — BASKETBALL PIONEER

The 1979 Basketball Hall of Fame inductee class included Les Harrison (left) and former Royals players Jerry Lucas (center) and Oscar Robertson (right).

The Sacramento Kings organization would like to pay tribute to the late Les Harrison who passed away in December of 1997 at the age of 93. As owner, general manager, and coach, Harrison was the driving force behind the Rochester Royals in the early days of the National Basketball League (NBL). In three seasons in the NBL, Harrison led the Royals to a 99-43 record, three NBL finals, and league titles in 1946 and 1947. With the signing of Dolly King in 1946, Harrison played a role in breaking the minority barrier in professional basketball. Following the 1948-49 season, in which the Royals played in the Basketball Association of America (BAA), Harrison led the effort to merge the NBL and BAA into the current National Basketball Association (NBA). Under Harrison's direction, the Royals won the franchise's lone NBA title in 1951, defeating the New York Knickerbockers 4-3 in the Finals. Harrison posted a .620 winning percentage (295-181) in seven NBA seasons, which ranks ninth all-time in the league entering this season. In a crowning achievement to his career, Harrison was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.

DID YOU KNOW ... Sacramento set a new franchise playoff record with 11 three-point field goals made versus Dallas in the first game of their 2004 NBA Playoff Western Conference First Round matchup (4/18/04). The Kings then matched that mark again in their series-clinching 119-118 win over Dallas (4/29/04).

A GAME 7 THRILLER FOR THE NBA TITLE

The Sacramento Kings' lone franchise NBA World Championship came in 1951 when the then-Rochester Royals defeated the New York Knickerbockers in seven games. Following is the game story and box score of the Royals' thrilling 79-75 Game 7 victory over the Knickerbockers as it appeared in the New York Times.

By Leonard Koppett

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 21 — Proving once again that free throws are more important than field goals, the Rochester Royals won the National Basketball Association championship before 4,200 spectators at the arena tonight by beating the New York Knickerbockers, 79 to 75, in the seventh game of the final play-off series. The Royals had won the first three games, the Knicks the next three.

Just how completely dependent Rochester's victory was on its foul line steadiness is clear in the chronology and statistics of the game. Bob Davies broke a 75-all tie with forty-four seconds to play when he sank two free throws after being fouled by Dick McGuire while driving to the basket; and in all, the Royals made twenty-nine out of thirty-seven free-throw attempts while New York sank only seventeen out of twenty-five. The Knicks had four more baskets, twenty-nine to twenty-five.

The fouls brought about New York's defeat in another way, too. Both its centers, Nat Clifton and Connie Simmons, fouled out in the last quarter, when the Knicks took the lead for the first time after trailing by as much as fourteen points in the first half. Meanwhile Arnie Risen, Rochester's center who took top-scoring honors with 24 points and scored the deciding basket before Davies made his free throws, committed his fourth foul twenty-two minutes before the game ended and played unpenalized the rest of the way.

Clifton, Simmons Foul Out

With Clifton and Simmons out, the Knicks were unable to control the jump balls that followed each foul in the last three minutes, so that their doom was really sealed when Risen made his last basket. New York was ahead, 74 to 72, when Simmons fouled out with two minutes left. Risen made the toss, then jumped against Ernie Vandeweghe and, when Rochester got possession, Arnie's hook shot put the Royals ahead, 75 to 74. Boryla tied it up a moment later but Rochester then froze the ball until Davies drove in.

Before the final minutes, the Knickerbockers' made another of their typical comebacks that marked their play all season long. The most "overtime" club in the league, they qualified for the final by coming from behind in their final game against Syracuse, and, after losing the first three to Rochester, trailed in each of the three games they won.

Tonight, trying to perform the ultimate in comebacks, they started by falling behind, 13 to 3. By the end of the first quarter they were up to 22 to 16, but a few minutes later Rochester led, 32 to 18. The Knicks battled back to within four points but trailed, 40 to 36, at halftime.

Knicks Finally Take Lead

In the third quarter they climbed to within three, then two, and were behind, 62 to 60, entering the last quarter. They finally achieved a 69-all tie midway through the period and took the lead for the first time, 71 to 70, with four minutes to go. Both times Gallatin converted under-the-basket feeds from McGuire.

McGuire added a foul half a minute later and the teams alternated free throws until Simmons fouled out against Risen. Rochester's final basket, with two seconds left, was a lay-up by Coleman after a successful freeze had settled matters.

Lou Eisenstein and Stan Stutz, the officials, charged the Knicks with thirty-two personals and the Royals with twenty-two. Splitting each team's total evenly between the two halves. Very few fouls were called against Rochester, however, in the play under the boards, where the Royals emerged with a 48-to-41 edge in rebounds. Clifton's fifth personal was particularly unfortunate for the Knicks, since it came while Rochester was holding the ball at mid-court. He was called for bumping Risen while moving into position. A minute and a half later he fouled out.

Coaches Voice No Complaints

No complaints were voiced about the officials, however, either by Knick coach, Joe Lapchick, or Rochester coach, Les Harrison, who, after Rochester's loss in New York Wednesday, found Eisenstein unsatisfactory and asked that he be replaced for tonight's game.

By their victory, the Royals earned $7,500 to add to their previous winnings and wound up with $13,250 in play-off money to divide up. The Knicks finished with $2,500 less and the satisfaction-disappointment of one of basketball's greatest near-misses.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Sacramento Kings are dedicated to making a positive and meaningful difference in the lives of people in need and at risk in the Sacramento region. With reading and literacy as a central focus of giving, Maloof Sports & Entertainment has forged a strong working partnership with area school districts, after-school programs and other organizations that promote reading and literacy. In addition, Joe and Gavin Maloof were the inaugural winners of the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame's Most Involved Executives for 2001 and the team's efforts were recognized with the 2004 Pro Team Humanitarian Award, which recognizes the franchise with the best community service program across all professional sports. For more information regarding the Sacramento Kings Community Service programs please visit www.kings.com.

GEORGE J. MALOOF SR. COMMUNITY CUP

Joe and Gavin Maloof have annually dedicated a preseason game as the "George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup." Each season, the Maloof family donates $100,000 of proceeds from the annual Community Cup game to a local charitable community improvement project. "Giving back to the Sacramento community is a cornerstone of our personal and professional values," said Joe Maloof. "We honor our father's beliefs in the importance of making a positive difference in the community by dedicating proceeds from a preseason game each year to a capital campaign that will leave a lasting mark on children and families in need." Gavin Maloof added, "Our entire family sees community service as a major priority for the Kings organization and we are dedicated to assisting those in need, and this annual event is a great way to tip-off each Kings season."

Capital Unity Council is this year's beneficiary of the 10th annual George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup. The Capital Unity Council strives to create an inclusive environment of understanding, acceptance, respect and celebration of diversity with programs that provide opportunities for learning, partnerships, coalition building, access to services and information, promotion of sound public policy and assembly. Introduced in 1999, the George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup has resulted in more than $1 million in donations from the Maloof family to local charitable causes in the name of their father. Past Community Cup projects have included Kiwanis Family House, the Sacramento Local Conservation Corps., Cathedral Restoration Project, Airport Little League, Hemispheres After-School Arts Academy, the Sacramento Asian Sports Foundation, La Familia Counseling Center, St. Patrick's Home and School for Children and last season's KVIE Public Television.

MALOOF SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT COMMUNITY INITIATIVES:

PROMOTING READING AND LITERACY

Kings Read to Achieve

As part of the NBA's global community outreach initiative NBA Cares, the league's Read to Achieve program aims to combat global illiteracy and encourage young people to develop a life-long love of reading. The NBA Family wants kids to love to read and wants adults to love to read to kids. As a team, the Kings participate in reading time outs at schools, community-based organizations and at Kings Reading & Learning Centers in hopes of encouraging a generation of children to read.

Kings Reading and Learning Centers

The Kings work hands-on in the community by refurbishing and building Kings Reading and Learning Centers. Locations may include, but are not limited to, school and public libraries, computer rooms and non-profit community centers. Volunteer Team Members from Maloof Sports & Entertainment work on rooms or buildings in need of upgrades for students to read and study. This season, the Kings will sponsor a new Reading and Learning Center in areas of need in the Sacramento region.

Teacher Appreciation Program
The Sacramento Kings work with the Sacramento County Office of Education to help recognize the top teachers in Sacramento County. The teachers identified as "Sacramento County Teachers of the Year" by SCOE are invited to a designated "Teacher Appreciation" Kings game where they are recognized on-court at halftime for their efforts in the classroom.

CELEBRATING DIVERSITY AND CULTURAL AWARENESS
Cesar Chavez Day of Volunteerism
Maloof Sports & Entertainment full-time and event Team Members participate side-by-side with the Maloof family in community projects, donating their hard work, expertise and energy. More than 100 Maloof Sports & Entertainment Team Members volunteered in the 5th annual Cesar Chavez Day of Volunteerism. In order to recognize and honor Cesar Chavez for his lifelong contributions to humanity, Joe and Gavin Maloof decided to make the Cesar Chavez Holiday a DAY-ON instead of a day-off for their Team Members. This season, Maloof Sports & Entertainment Team Members will again donate a day of volunteerism in honor of Cesar Chavez.

Chinese Cultural Celebration
Maloof Sports & Entertainment also embraces the Chinese culture by celebrating during the Chinese New Year. ARCO Arena comes alive with the sights and sounds of the Chinese culture during the celebration.

Black History Month
Maloof Sports & Entertainment celebrates the rich history of African American culture during Black History Month. With assistance from key community organizations, this celebration is a chance to recognize community leaders, as well as "unsung heroes" in the African American community as "Black History Month All-Stars." The "All-Stars" are presented with an award during an on-court presentation.

OTHER INITIATIVES:
KINGS FOR THE COMMUNITY
The "Kings for the Community" program was developed last season by Kings players and personnel as a way to give back to the community. Throughout the 2007-08 season, special groups and children from underserved communities in the area attended Kings home games courtesy of Kings players, Team President Geoff Petrie and Head Coach Reggie Theus. All special groups in attendance also had the opportunity to meet Petrie, Coach Theus or the player responsible for bringing them to the game in a special pre- or postgame meet and greet. Thousands of deserving local children and community members benefited from the program.

JR. NBA/JR. WNBA BASKETBALL LEAGUE
The Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA serves existing recreational youth basketball leagues through support programs for players, coaches, parents and officials. Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA programs emphasize fundamental skill development, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive adult participation with the goal of providing a fun and rewarding youth basketball experience where young players can create a bond with the game while also learning what it takes to be successful away from the court. Instruction is the foundation of the Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA initiative. That is why an expert team of NBA and WNBA personalities, together with youth sports professionals, have created a unique series of instructional materials for distribution to member league players, coaches, parents and officials.

KINGS WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION
Founded in 1993, the Kings Women's Organization helps facilitate the team's efforts through support of community outreach programs, awareness campaigns and fundraising events focusing on women and children in need in the Sacramento region. Members are comprised of wives, female relatives and significant others of the Kings players, coaches, medical and media staff. The Kings Women's Organization joins together with players, Maloof Team Member volunteers and other groups to make a positive impact in the community.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

SEASON OF GIVING

Each holiday season, Maloof Sports & Entertainment spreads holiday cheer throughout the Sacramento community through its "Season of Giving" initiative. This season will mark the seventh annual Season of Giving, which consists of Kings and Monarchs players, members of the Sacramento Kings Dance Team, Slamson and volunteers from Maloof Sports & Entertainment participating in charitable giving and holiday fun benefiting children and families throughout the region.

ST. HOPE ACADEMY

Former NBA player and Sacramento native Kevin Johnson founded the St. HOPE Academy in his childhood neighborhood of Oak Park to instill the life lessons taught to him by his grandparents. At the Academy, children are instilled with the same values he learned as a child: discipline, responsibility and love. Because of Kevin's dedication to Oak Park and the shared vision with Maloof Sports & Entertainment to make a difference to at-risk and in-need families in Sacramento, Joe and Gavin Maloof announced a 10-year commitment to support Kevin's efforts in Oak Park during the 2001-02 season. A total of $500,000 will be donated by Maloof Sports & Entertainment to support Kevin's project for the children in Oak Park.

MEMORABILIA DONATION REQUESTS

Throughout the year, Maloof Sports & Entertainment receives thousands of requests from schools, non-profit organizations, foundations, community groups and charity events. In order for your organization to be considered for a donation item, please log on to http://www.nba.com/kings/community/cs_donation_process.html in order to fill out and submit the official donation request form.

Organizations will be contacted two-three weeks prior to their event to coordinate a pickup. To meet the needs of our community requests, please remember that donations are limited to one request per organization within a 12-month period.

NBA CARES

NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility effort that addresses important community issues with an emphasis on programs that support education, youth and family development, and health-related causes. The NBA, its teams and players implement and execute a variety of programs that impact and inspire children and families around the world.

NBA Cares also reaches more that two million players, coaches, parents and officials worldwide participating in recreational youth basketball leagues as part of the Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA program. The program stresses the fundamentals of the game and the values of sportsmanship, teamwork and leading an active, healthy and safe lifestyle.

Through Basketball without Borders, a basketball instructional camp for young people that promotes friendship, healthy living and education, current and former NBA players and team personnel act as camp coaches and mentors for young athletes. Since the inaugural camp in 2001, BWB has been held in ten countries and territories on five continents and has featured more than 160 NBA players, coaches and team personnel from 30 different teams for more than 1,000 basketball players from more than 100 different countries and territories.

As the world's greatest athletes, NBA players are dedicated to the community and committed to giving back in ways big and small. Through their foundations, camp efforts and philanthropic work, they make a difference for hundreds of nonprofit and youth serving organizations.

NBA Cares supports numerous causes and organizations that support people in need and work to improve the quality of life in communities around the world. Make-A-Wish, UNICEF, KaBOOM!, Habitat for Humanity, Boys & Girls Club of America, Hands On Network, Special Olympics, the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS and the World Food Program are just a few of the organizations with which the NBA has a partnership.

KINGS RETIRED JERSEYS

NATE ARCHIBALD

Nate "Tiny" Archibald played six of his 13 NBA seasons with the Kings franchise. Selected by the Cincinnati Royals in the second round of the 1970 NBA Draft, Archibald starred in six NBA All-Star Games. The 6-1, 180 guard posted his best season in 1972-73, averaging a career-best 34.0 ppg and 11.4 apg, becoming the only player in NBA history to lead the league in both scoring and assists. Archibald was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1991.

MITCH RICHMOND

Mitch Richmond became the first player in Sacramento-era history to have his jersey retired (December 5, 2003). Richmond ranks among the top five in franchise history in points, field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted, free throw percentage, steals, three-pointers made and attempted, and three-point field goal percentage. He became the first Sacramento King to be named to the All-Star Game, and earned the All-Star MVP award in 1995 after tallying 23 points in 22 minutes off the bench. Also while with Sacramento, Richmond represented the United States in the 1996 Olympics, winning a gold medal.

6TH MAN (THE FANS)

The No. 6 jersey was retired to acknowledge the support of the Kings fans. A sellout streak of 497 games still stands as the fourth-longest sellout streak in NBA history. The milestone streak began on opening night in 1985, the first season the Kings played in Sacramento, and ended after the second game of the 1997-98 season. Entering the 2006-07 campaign, the Kings have sold out 313 games, the longest active streak in the league.

BOBBY DAVIES

Bobby Davies, known as the Harrisburg Houdini, played all 10 of his NBA seasons with the Rochester Royals (1945-46 - 1954-55). His two free throws in the final 40 seconds of regulation broke a 75-75 tie in the seventh and deciding game of the 1951 NBA Finals against New York, helping to give the franchise its first and only NBA Championship. The four-time All-Star averaged 16.2 ppg, 2.9 rpg, and 6.0 apg in his best statisical season in 1951-52. A 6-1, 175 guard, Davies was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1969.

MAURICE STOKES

The 6-7, 240 forward played all three of his seasons for the franchise, playing his first two seasons with Rochester (1955-56 - 1956-57) and his last with Cincinnati (1957-58). In his first season, Stokes was named NBA Rookie of the Year and was named to the All-NBA Second Team after posting team-highs of 16.8 ppg (11th in NBA), 16.3 rpg (2nd in NBA), and 4.9 apg (9th in NBA). An All-Star in all three seasons, Stokes averaged 16.4 ppg, 17.3 rpg, and 5.3 apg in 202 career games. His brillant career was cut short when he was diagnosed with post-traumatic encephalopathy (brain injury damaging motor-control center) after a fall suffered three days earlier in a game against the Minneapolis Lakers (3/12/58).

OSCAR ROBERTSON

Known as the Big O, Oscar Robertson displayed an uncanny all-around game, finishing his 12-year NBA career with 25.7 ppg, 7.5 rpg, and 9.5 apg in 1,040 career games. He played 10 of his 14 NBA seasons with the Cincinnati Royals. His best season came in 1961-62 when the 6-5, 210 guard averaged a triple double - 30.8 ppg, 12.5 rpg, 11.4 apg. He averaged 30 or more points in six of his first seven seasons in the league and 10 or more assists in five of his first seven seasons. Robertson, who led the league in assists in six seasons, ranks among the NBA's all-time leaders in scoring (8th), assists (4th), and points (8th). The 12-time All Star was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.

JACK TWYMAN

A 6-6 guard from Cincinnati, Jack Twyman played all 11 of his NBA seasons with the Kings franchise, two coming in Rochester (1955-56 and 1956-57) and the other nine seasons (1957-58 - 1965-66) with his hometown team. Twyman averaged 14 or more points in his first 10 seasons and averaged 31.2 ppg, 8.9 rpg, and 3.5 apg during the 1959-60 regular season. In 1958-59, Twyman ranked second in the league in scoring, posting a 25.8 scoring average. Twyman twice scored 50 or more points in his career, incldng a 59-point performance versus Minneapolis (1/15/60), which still remains the Kings' franchise single-game scoring record. Among franchise career leaders, Twyman ranks second in points, field goals made and attempted, and free throws made and attempted. The Hall of Fame inducted the six-time All-Star guard in 1982.

SAM LACEY

Sam Lacey, a 6-10, 235 forward out of New Mexico State, played almost all of his 13 NBA seasons with the Kings franchise. The first selection of the Royals in the 1970 NBA Draft, Lacey averaged a double-double in points and rebounds in his first six seasons in the league. Lacey stands as the franchise leader in games played (888) and rebounds (9,353). He also ranks in the top five in minutes played, points, field goals made, and field goals attempted.

ARCO ARENA — HOME OF THE KINGS

A sold out crowd of 10,333 witnessed the Kings' debut in Sacramento at ARCO Arena I on October 25, 1985. After three seasons in the temporary facility, the Kings played their first basketball game at the permanent ARCO Arena facility on November 8, 1988 before a then-capacity crowd of 17,014. The fans have continued to flock to ARCO Arena, which now seats 17,317 for basketball. In fact, over a 13-season stretch from 1985-86 to 1997-98 the Kings hosted an NBA-leading 497 consecutive sellouts at ARCO Arena.

Conveniently located near the intersection of I-5 and I-80, ARCO Arena is only five minutes from downtown Sacramento and 90 miles from the San Francisco Bay area.

There are approximately 3,900 trees and over 8,000 shrubs on the 105 acres surrounding ARCO Arena with parking for up to 12,000 vehicles in the fully-lighted parking lot. Among the indoor amenities are concession stands throughout, featuring 80 service lines, four lounges overlooking the arena interior, eight locker rooms, 297 public toilets, and 24-hour security.

ARCO Arena adds to the local economy by employing as many as 1,200 full- and part-time workers during the basketball season. Arena patrons have come to the events hungry, consuming 5,000 gallons of soda and 170,000 hot dogs in just one year!

One of the busiest buildings of its kind in the United States, ARCO Arena hosts nearly 200 events and two million spectators annually. The facility has been home to numerous premier concert events, including nine sellout shows by country music superstar, Garth Brooks, who has attracted over 144,000 fans to his ARCO Arena concerts. Other top acts that have played ARCO Arena have included Paul McCartney, Eric Clapton, Pearl Jam, Elton John, Prince, Reba McEntire, and the Rolling Stones. In addition, more than 170,000 people attended the five-day Billy Graham Crusade in October of 1995 in the Crusade's only United States stop.

Other highlighted events at ARCO Arena have included the Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus, NHL Hockey, Arena Football, and the 1994, 1998, 2002, and 2007 First and Second Round Western Regional NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Tournaments. The versatile facility has hosted monster trucks, professional wrestling, and ice shows featuring the world's finest figure skaters. Last year, ARCO Arena hosted the 2007 NCAA Women's Division I Volleyball Championships.

ARCO Arena also is home to the Sacramento Monarchs of the Women's National Basketball Association. Having just finished their 12th season, the Monarchs continue to be a model franchise having produced record crowds and playing in back-to-back WNBA Finals (2005, 2006). The Monarchs won the WNBA Championship in 2005. On June 1, 2002, the Monarchs opened their regular season with the first sellout in team history.

KINGS TEAM STORE—The Sacramento Kings team store is located at the southeast entrance on the concourse level of ARCO Arena. The team store carries a full line of Kings merchandise including adult and children-size clothing and other souvenirs. The team store is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Also, the store is open to ticket holders during all Kings and Sacramento Monarchs games when the doors open, and remains open a half hour after each event. Additional hours will be announced for holidays. Visa, Mastercard, Discover, and American Express are accepted. For more information, contact the Kings Team Store at (916) 928-3673.

LOST AND FOUND—During Kings games, the lost and found is located at the guest services desk at the southeast corner of the concourse level. After the game, any unclaimed items will be held at the security desk located at the southeast security entrance on the maintenance level of ARCO Arena.

LUXURY SUITES AND BOXES—ARCO Arena houses 30 luxury suites featuring brass and oak furnishings, state-of-the-art video and sound, electronic technology, and glass retractable sliding brass-lined fronts. Each suite includes both inside and outside seating and comes with sliding windows and plush amenities at the mid-level of the building's seating area. Additionally, 46 club boxes above the suite area featuring cushioned seats, tray areas, and special catered services are unique to ARCO Arena. For more information regarding ARCO Arena luxury suites, please call (916) 928-3650. For more information regarding ARCO club boxes, please call (916) 928-3650.

PARKING—Parking lots for Kings games are open two-and-a-half hours prior to the start of the game. For non-Kings events the parking lots open two hours prior to the start of the event. The parking facilities at ARCO Arena consist of spaces for 12,000 automobiles. The parking spaces are equally distributed around all sides of the arena and consist of separate lots for employees, V.I.P.'s, preferred, pre-paid, and general parking.

SKYLINE RESTAURANT—Experience the excitement of the Kings and the elegance of fine cuisine all under one roof. The Skyline Restaurant offers a wonderful upscale buffet-style dinner featuring a variety of cuisines, including innovative fresh pasta saute and carving stations, delicious desserts and a full service bar. Located on the fourth floor above sections 202 and 203, the restaurant is open two hours prior to every Kings home game and remains open after the game to host the Kings live postgame radio show on Sports 1140 AM. Walk-ins are accepted. Restaurant reservations can be made by calling the Skyline Restaurant at (916) 928-8183.

KINGS & MONARCHS PRACTICE FACILITY

The Kings/Monarchs Practice Facility opened its doors in December 2000. The state-of-the-art, $9.1 million, 38,500 square foot facility stands adjacent to the team's home, ARCO Arena.

Ten months after the groundbreaking ceremonies on February 23, 2000, the Kings held their first practice in the facility on December 26, 2000. DPR Construction (Sacramento) was contracted to build the facility that Boora Architects (Portland) had designed.

The facility includes a number of first-class amenities. With 24-hour dedicated access for players, coaches, and basketball staffs, the structure features two full-size basketball courts, locker room facilities for the Kings and Monarchs, and office suites for the coaches and the entire basketball operation staffs of both teams.

Additionally, the facility includes a spacious weight room with the latest in training and fitness equipment and a separate treatment and rehabilitation area. The structure also houses a video scouting room with the latest in video editing technology, a practice viewing area for VIPs and the media, staff locker rooms, and a player's lounge.

Construction
- Ten-month fast-track construction project was built in two main sections: a precast tilt panel structure with a steel joist roof that encases two full-size basketball courts, while the balance of the building, containing offices, locker rooms, and training areas, is wood frame construction.

Office Space
- 24 offices for Kings/Monarchs coaches and staff with an additional five open-air work spaces.
- Motion sensor security system, utilizing key and thumb print access from exterior.
- Motion sensitive lighting system to reduce power usage.
- Each office equipped with custom-made, wood-based furniture to fit the needs of the individual.
- Televisions provided in all offices with DVD players in most offices.
- Spacious reception area, featuring a basketball-themed reception desk.
- Conference room with a 12-person, solid maple conference table and a 61-inch high definition projection television and in-house sound system.
- Owners, management, and coaches offices have window views of basketball courts.

Training Room
- Offices for the trainer, assistant trainer, strength coach, and team physicians for both the Kings and Monarchs.
- Two taping chairs and three treatment tables.
- Three whirlpools for ice treatment, heat massage, and aqua rehabilitation.
- 10-person steam room.

Basketball Courts
- Two full-size basketball courts designed as exact replicas to the Kings and Monarchs floor at ARCO Arena.
- Permanent hardwood flooring, hand-crafted and painted with Kings and Monarchs logos.
- Five basketball stanchions.
- Fully-functional scoreboard and possession clocks.
- Court area also includes a stereo system powered by six speakers connected to the centralized audio system.

Locker Rooms
- Five separate locker rooms for Kings players, Monarchs players, Kings and Monarchs coaches, and Basketball Staff.
- Kings and Monarchs locker rooms include 18 locker stalls, a 63-inch high definition plasma television with VCR and DVD, a 10-speaker stereo system connected to the centralized audio system, custom made heightened sinks, and individually monogrammed player robes and towels.

Workout Room
- 2,300-square-foot area featuring 37 pieces of the latest high-tech cardio and weight training equipment as well as an extensive selection of free weights.
- Four wall-mounted 55-inch HD plasma TVs and two 42-inch HD plasma TVs.
- Stereo and television audio system is designed with individual wireless headphones to personalize television and stereo selection.

Equipment Room
- 36x36 foot area with built-in storage for all the Kings and Monarchs' shoes and apparel.
- Industrial washer and dryers.
- Inside loading and unloading dock.

Information provided by the National Basketball Trainers' Association

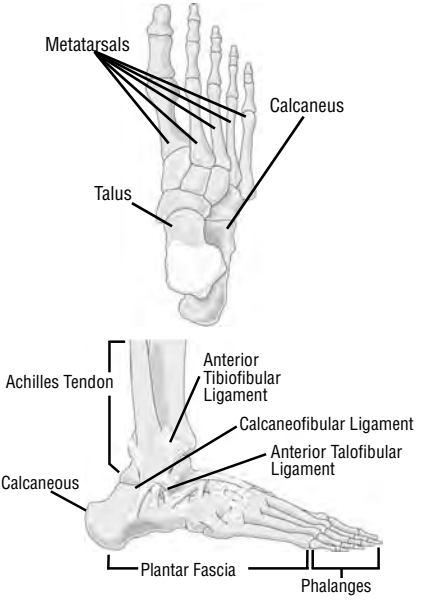
ANKLE & FOOT

Achilles Tendon. The thick tendon at the distal portion of the calf that connects the gastrocnemius (calf) muscle to the heel.

Anterior Talofibular Ligament. A ligament of the ankle that connects the fibula (lateral ankle bone) to the talus. This ligament is often subject to sprain.

Anterior Tibiofibular Ligament. Restrains inversion of calcaneous.

Calcaneofibular Ligament. The ligament that connects the fibula to the calcaneous.



Calcaneous. The heel bone.

Deltoid Ligament. Ligament that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot. It is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side and is sprained less frequently than other ankle ligaments.

Hammer Toe. Condition when the first digit of a toe is at a different angle than the remaining digits of the same toe. Common among basketball players as a result of improper shoe length.

Lateral Malleolus. A protuberance on the outside of the ankle.

Medial Malleolus. A protuberance on the inside of the ankle.

Metatarsals. Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.

Morton's Toe. Condition in which the second toe is longer than the first toe. This can cause mechanical imbalances, which produce pain within weight-bearing bones.

Peroneal Muscles. Group of muscles in the lateral lower leg that is responsible for everting the ankle. Tendons of these three muscles are also vital to the stability of the ankle and foot.

Phalanges. The group of bones at the distal end of the foot; the toes.

Plantar Fascia. The tight band of connective tissue in the arch of the foot.

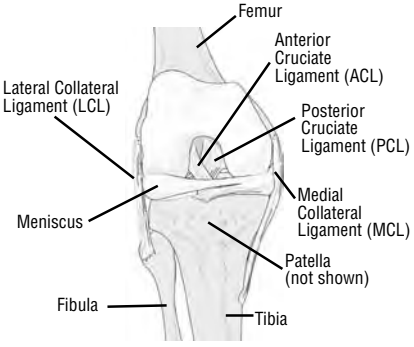
Plantar Fasciitis. Inflammation of the plantar fascia; associated with overuse or acute foot injuries.

Soft Corn. A corn (softened by moisture) that is found beneath the upper surface of the toe.

Stress X-Ray. A continual X-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed in order to determine joint stability.

Tarsals. Group of seven bones of the foot, consisting of the calcaneous, navicular, talus, cuboid and the three cuneiform bones.

Fast Facts
•NBTA records indicate that the most common injury suffered by NBA players is a sprained ankle.
•Most ankle sprains occur when one player steps on another player's foot.
•More than 90 percent of all ankle sprains involve the lateral aspect of the ankle.
•Three ankle sprains are sustained for every 10 regular season games played in the NBA.
•NBTA records indicate that players older than 30 are seven times more likely to tear the achilles tendon than those younger than 30.



KNEE

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL). A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint.

Baker's Cyst. Localized swelling of a bursa sac in the posterior knee. A Baker's Cyst indicates that there is trauma inside the knee joint.

Chondromalacia. Roughening of the articular cartilage. Best known for roughening on the underside of the patella, which can occur in any patellofemoral injury.

Derotation Brace. A customized knee brace worn by players with a history of rotational instability of the knee.

Femur. Thighbone; longest bone in the body.

Fibula. Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; it runs from the knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.

Hamstring. Group of muscles that run from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. The hamstring muscles work to flex the knee and extend the hip and are often injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of flexibility.

Iliotibial Band. A thick, wide fascial layer that runs from the iliac crest to the knee joint that is occasionally inflamed as a result of excessive running.

Jumper's Knee. Inflammation of the patellar ligament associated with overuse of the knee from jumping and running.

Lateral Collateral Ligament. Ligament on the lateral aspect of the knee that connects the femur to the fibula and provides lateral stability to the joint.

Medial Collateral Ligament. Ligament on the medial aspect of the knee that connects the femur to the tibia and provides medial stability to the joint.

Meniscectomy. An intra-articular surgical procedure of the knee by which all or part of the damaged meniscus is removed.

Meniscus. Crescent-shaped cartilage located within the knee that works to absorb weight and provide stability.

Patella. The kneecap. The patella functions to protect the distal end of the femur as well as to increase the mechanical advantage and force-generating capacities of the quadriceps muscle group.

Patella Tendinitis. Inflammation of the patellar ligament; also know as jumper's knee.

Patellofemoral Joint. Articulation of the kneecap and femur. Inflammation of this joint can lead to chondromalacia and is caused by an acute injury to the patella, excessive running, chronic wear and tear of the knee or poor foot mechanics.

Plica. Fold of tissue in the joint capsule.

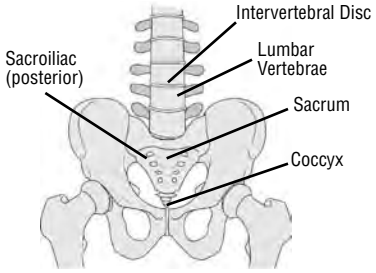
Posterior Cruciate Ligament. A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that prevents backward displacement of the tibia.

Q-Angle. Normal angle of quadriceps relative to the patella. The normal angle for males is 10 degrees.

Quadricep Muscles. A group of four muscles in the thigh that works to extend the knee.

Tibia. Larger of the two bones of the lower leg and the weight-bearing bone of the shin; it runs medially to the fibula.

Fast Facts
•NBTA records indicate that during the course of a regular season, more playing time will be lost because of inflammation of the knee, patella and patellar tendon, than from any other injury.



HIP, GROIN & LOWER BACK

Coccyx. The "tail bone", a group of four fused vertebrae located at the terminal end of the spine.

Groin Strain. Strain to the muscles that work to adduct the leg.

Hip Pointer. Contusion to the iliac crest.

Intervertebral Disc. A flat, rounded plate between each vertebra of the spine. The disc consists of a thick fiberous ring that surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Lumbar Vertebrae. Five vertebrae of the lower back that articulate with the sacrum to form the lumbosacral joint.

Sacroiliac. Junction of the sacrum with the hip bone.

Sacrum. Group of five fused vertebrae located just below the lumbar vertebrae of the lower back.

Sciatica. Irritation of the sciatic nerve resulting in pain or tingling in the leg.

Sciatic Nerve. Major nerve that carries impulses for muscular action and sensations between the lower back and thigh and lower leg; it is the longest nerve in the body.

Spinous Process. A small projection on the posterior portion of each vertebra that functions as an attachment site for muscles or ligaments of the spine.

Spondylitis. Inflammation of one or more vertebrae.

Spondylolisthesis. Forward displacement of one vertebra over another.

Spondylosis. Abnormal vertebral fixation or immobility.

Transverse Process. Small lateral projection off the right and left side of each vertebra that functions as an attachment site for muscles and ligaments of the spine.

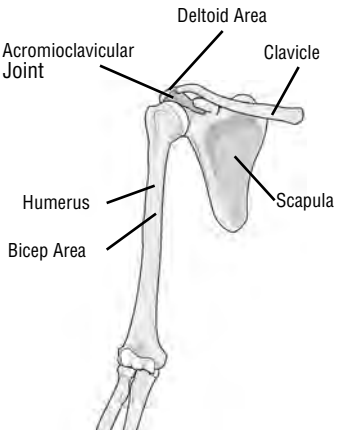
SHOULDER

Acromioclavicular (AC) Joint. Area in the shoulder where the scapula and the clavicle intersect.

Biceps. Muscles on the front of the upper arm responsible for flexing the elbow and shoulder.

Clavicle. The collar bone.

Costochondral. Cartilage that separates the bones of the rib cage.



Deltoid Muscles. Muscles at the top of the shoulder that are responsible for moving the arm to the front, side and back of the body.

Glenoid Fossa. A cavity of the scapula into which the head of the humerus fits to form the shoulder joint. The location of a shoulder dislocation or subluxation.

Humerus. Bone of the upper arm that runs from the shoulder to the elbow.

Pectorals. Chest muscles.

Rotator Cuff. Group of four shoulder muscles responsible for moving the shoulder in internal and external rotation and assisting with overall shoulder stability.

Scapula. Shoulder blade.

Sternoclavicular Articulation. Area where the clavicle connects with the sternum.

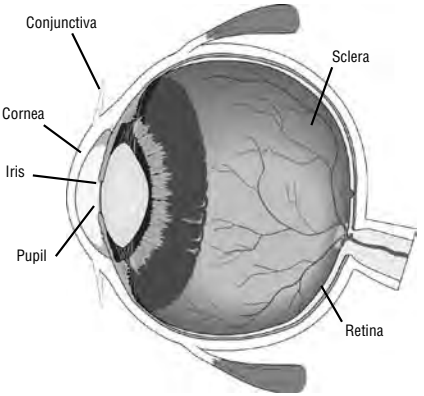
Sternum. The breast bone.

Trapezius. Flat, triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.

Triceps. Muscle on the back of the upper arm that is responsible for extending the elbow and shoulder.

Xiphoid Process. Tip of the sternum.

EYE



Blow Out Fracture. A fracture of the cavity containing the eyeball and its associated muscles.

Conjunctiva. Membrane covering the eyeball.

Conjunctivitis. Inflammation of the membrane lining the eyelids and covering the eyeball.

Cornea. The transparent anterior part of the eye.

Iris. Tissues of the eye that contract or expand to adjust the amount of light entering through the pupil.

Pupil. The window of the eye through which light passes to the lens and the retina.

Retina. Innermost tissue of the eyeball that contains nerve tissue vital for the reception and transmission of visual stimuli.

Sclera. The white outercoat covering the eyeball.

Fast Facts
•NBTA records indicate that no significant eye injury has been sustained by a player wearing protective goggles.

INJURY EVALUATION

Arthroscope. An instrument used to visualize the interior of a joint cavity.

Arthroscopy. A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of the damage or confirm diagnosis.

Avascular Necrosis. Death of a body part because of a lack of blood circulation.

Bone Scan. An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labeled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bone injury. A bone scan is particularly useful in diagnosing a stress fracture.

CT Scan. Use of a computer to produce a cross sectional view of the anatomical part being investigated from X-ray data.

Chondral Fracture. Fracture to the chondral (cartilaginous) surfaces of bone.

Degenerative Joint Disease. Changes in the joint surfaces as a result of repetitive trauma.

Dislocation. Complete displacement of joint surfaces.

Edema. Accumulation of fluid in organs and tissues of the body; swelling.

Effusion. Accumulation of fluid within a joint.

Fracture. Breach in continuity of the bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick, incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress and transverse.

Heat Cramps. Painful muscle spasms caused by excessive body heat and depletion of fluids and electrolytes. Can be prevented with acclimatization, attention to environmental heat stress and adequate fluid consumption.

Heat Exhaustion. Mild form of shock to cardiovascular system likely a result of dehydration. Acclimatization, attention to environmental heat stress and fluid consumption will reduce risk of occurrence.

Heat Stroke. Condition of rapidly rising internal body temperature.

Hemarthrosis. Accumulation of blood within a joint as a result of an acute injury.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI). Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc and meniscus injuries.

Osteochondritis Dessicans. A piece of bone and/or cartilage loosened from its attachment after trauma, it can cause a lesion.

Radiography. Taking of X-rays.

Sprain. A twisting, stretching, pulling or tearing of a ligament.
1st Degree: A stretching but no tearing of a ligament. Athlete may either return to play immediately or will miss very little activity.
2nd Degree: A partial tear of a ligament. Bracing may be required. Athlete may miss one to four weeks.
3rd Degree: A complete tear of the ligament. Depending upon the ligament involved, bracing or even surgery may be required. Athlete may be out of activity from three weeks to one year or longer.

Strain. The stretching, pulling or twisting of a muscle or tendon.
1st Degree: A stretching but no tear of the muscle or tendon. Athlete may either return to play immediately or will usually miss very little activity.
2nd Degree: A partial tear of a muscle or tendon. Athlete may miss one to four weeks.
3rd Degree: A complete tear of a muscle or tendon. Depending upon the muscle or tendon involved, surgery may be required. Athlete may be out of activity from three weeks to one year or longer.

Subluxation. Partial dislocation of a joint. The term usually implies that the joint can be returned to its normal position without formal reduction.

Synovitis. Inflammation of the synovial lining of a joint.

Tendinitis. Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, usually caused by chronic overuse.

MEDICAL GLOSSARY

ATC. Athletic trainer certified; an athletic trainer with this designation has passed the certification exam administered by the National Athletic Trainers' Association.

Abduct. Movement of any extremity away from the midline of the body.

Abrasion. Any injury that rubs off the surface of the skin.

Abscess. An infection that produces pus; it can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration.

Adhesion. Abnormal adherence of collagen fibers to surrounding structures.

Aerobic. Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen.

Anaerobic. Exercise without the use of oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of vigorous exercise.

Anaphylactic Shock. Shock that is caused by an allergic reaction.

Anterior. In front of or on the front surface of.

Anterior Compartment Syndrome. Swelling in the lower leg that jeopardizes the viability of the muscles, nerves and arteries that serve the foot. In severe cases, emergency surgery is necessary to relieve the swelling and pressure.

Anti-Inflammatory. Any agent that prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

Aspiration. The withdrawal of fluid from the body by means of a suction-type device.

Asymptomatic. Without symptoms.

Atrophy. To shrivel or shrink from disuse, as in muscular atrophy.

Avulsion. The forcible tearing away of a body part or structure.

Axilla. The armpit.

Bennett's Fracture. A fracture or dislocation at the base of the thumb.

Bruise. A discoloration of the skin as a result of an extravasation of blood into the underlying tissues.

Bursa. A fluid-filled sac located in areas of the body where friction is likely to occur, for example between a tendon and the underlying bone.

Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). Artificial establishment of blood circulation and movement of air into the lungs.

Calf. Large muscle group, consisting of the gastrocnemius and soleus muscles, located at the back of the shin. The calf is connected to the heel by the Achilles tendon. This muscle is responsible for foot plantarflexion and is instrumental in jumping.

Capsule. A structure consisting of ligaments that surround and stabilize a joint.

Carbohydrate/Electrolyte Drink. Sports drink, such as Gatorade, that provides carbohydrate to muscles and replaces fluids and electrolytes (sodium, potassium) lost in sweat.

Cartilage. Smooth, slippery substance preventing the ends of bones from rubbing together.

Cervical Vertebrae. Group of seven vertebrae located in the neck.

Charley Horse. A contusion or bruise to a muscle resulting in intramuscular bleeding. No other injury should be called a charley horse.

Cold Pack. A pack of natural or synthetic ice that is applied to minimize blood flow in an injured area.

Collagen. Substance existing in commonly injured tissues of the body, including skin, cartilage, ligaments and bone.

Colles' Fracture. A fracture of the distal end of the radius.

Concentric Muscle Contraction. A shortening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to move a resistance.

Concussion. Jarring injury of the brain.

Congenital. Existing before birth; to be born with.

Contusion. A tissue injury caused by a direct blow.

Costochondral. Cartilage that separates the bones of the rib cage.

Cranium. Bony framework of the head consisting of eight cranial bones and 14 bones of the face and teeth.

Cyst. Abnormal sac containing liquid or semisolid matter.

Dehydration. State resulting from loss of body fluid where fluid output (sweating) exceeds fluid intake.

Distal. Term describing the location of one anatomical body part that is farther away from the midline of the body than another. For example, the hand is distal to the elbow.

Dorsiflexion. Ankle motion in which the foot and toes are moved away from the ground in an upward fashion.

Eccentric Muscle Contraction. An overall lengthening of a muscle as it develops tension and contracts against resistance.

Eccymosis. Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin.

-Ectomy. Suffix connoting surgical removal of the affected part. For example, an appendectomy.

Electrical Galvanic Stimulation (EGS). An electrical therapeutic modality that sends current through the body at selected voltages and frequencies. Often used to control pain and swelling.

Electrolytes. Ionized salts in blood, tissue fluids and cells, including sodium, potassium and chlorine.

Electromyogram (EMG). Test to determine nerve function.

Ethyl Chloride. Cold spray. A chemical coolant sprayed onto an injury site to produce a local, mild anesthesia.

Etiology. Study of the causes of injury and disease.

Eversion. Action of the ankle turning outward.

Extension. Action of straightening a joint as achieved by an extensor muscle.

External Rotation. Lateral movement of a joint or extremity.

Fascia. A sheath of fat and fibrous tissue that connects skin to the underlying tissues.

Fat Percentage. The amount of body weight that is adipose or fat tissue. Fat percentage can be calculated by underwater weighing, measuring select skinfold thickness or by analyzing electrical impedance.

Flexibility. The ability of a muscle to relax and yield to stretch forces.

Flexibility Exercise. General term used to describe activities performed to passively or actively elongate soft tissue.

Flexion. Motion of bending a joint as achieved by a flexor muscle.

Gamekeeper's Thumb. Tear of the ulnar collateral ligament of the metacarpophalangeal joint of the thumb.

Glenohumeral. The shoulder; consisting of the glenoid capsule, head of the humerus and labrum. The type of joint that allows 360-degree motion; a "ball and socket" joint.

Grade 1 Injury. A mild injury in which a ligament, tendon or other musculoskeletal tissue may have been stretched or contused, but not torn or otherwise disrupted.

Grade 2 Injury. A moderate injury when musculoskeletal tissue has been partially, but not totally, torn. A grade 2 injury will cause appreciable limitation in the function of the injured tissue.

Grade 3 Injury. A severe injury in which tissue has been significantly torn or otherwise disrupted, causing a virtual total loss of function.

Groin. Junction of the thigh and abdomen; location of muscles that rotate, flex and adduct the hip.

Hematoma. Tumor-like mass produced by the accumulation of coagulated blood in a cavity.

Hot Pack. Chemical pack that rests in water of approximately 160 degrees and is used for general therapeutic application.

Hyperextension. Extreme extension of a limb or body part.

Ice Massage. A small block of ice formed into a paper cup rubbed on an injury.

Iliac Crest. Lateral edge of the hip, generally the site of a hip pointer.

Inferior. Anatomically beneath, lower or toward the bottom.

Inflammation. The body's natural response to injury in which the involved site may display various degrees of pain, swelling, heat, redness and/or loss of function.

Intermittent Compression Pump. Therapeutic modality that uses a pump to send air into a sleeve worn over an injury, on an intermittent basis, in order to disperse edema.

Internal Rotation. Rotation of a joint or extremity medially or to the inside.

Interosseus Membrane. Uniting membrane between the tibia and fibula that forms a collagenous fibrous tissue. It serves as an origin for many of the muscles of the lower leg and also acts to transmit stress from the tibia to the fibula.

Isokinetic Exercise. Form of active resistive exercise in which the speed of limb movement is controlled by a preset limiting machine, such as Cybex or Biodex.

Isometric Contraction. Muscular contraction in which tension is developed but no mechanical work is done. There is no appreciable joint movement, and the overall length of the muscles stays the same.

Isotonic Contraction. A concentric or eccentric muscular contraction that results in movement of a joint or body part, as in lifting a weight.

-itis. Suffix that refers to inflammation (for example, bursitis).

Joint Mobilization. Passive traction and/or gliding movements applied to joint surfaces that maintain or restore normal joint motion.

Lateral. To the outside of the body.

Lesion. Wound, injury or tumor.

Ligament. Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.

Lumbosacral. Region of lower back comprising the lumbar and sacral spine.

Mallet Finger. Injury of the fingertip in which the extension tendon is avulsed off the distal phalanx.

Mandible. The jawbone.

Manipulation. A passive movement applied to a body part.

Medial. To the inside of the body.

Metacarpals. Five long bones of the hand, running from the wrist to the fingers.

Myositis. Inflammation of a muscle.

Myositis Ossificans. Inflammation in a muscle resulting in the formation of a bone-like substance. Also known as "calcium deposit."

National Athletic Trainers' Association. The certifying and governing body of the athletic training profession.

National Basketball Trainers Association. The governing body of athletic trainers in the National Basketball Association.

Necrotic. Relating to death of a portion of tissue.

Neoprene. Lightweight rubber used in joint and muscle sleeves It is designed to provide support and/or insulation and heat retention to the area.

Neuritis. Inflammation of a nerve.

Olecranon Process. Bony projection of the ulna at the tip of the elbow.

One-Repetition Maximum. The maximum amount of weight that can be lifted in a particular exercise at one time.

Orthotic. Any device applied to or around the body in the care of physical impairment or disability, commonly used to control foot mechanics.

Parasthesia. Sensation of numbness or tingling, indicating nerve irritation.

Pathology. Study of the change of function and structure caused by injury or disease.

Phalnax, Phalanges (pl.). Any bone(s) of the fingers or toes.

Phlebitis. Inflammation of a vein.

Plantar. Pertaining to the sole of the foot.

Plantarflexion. Ankle motion such that the toes are pointed toward the ground.

Posterior. At the back or rear, of the body.

Progressive Resistance Exercise (PRE). An approach to exercise whereby the load or resistance to the muscle is applied by some mechanical means.

Pronation. Moving the hand into a palm-downward position or placing the foot into an abducted and everted position.

Proprioceptive Neuromuscular Facilitation (PNF). An approach to therapeutic exercise for increasing range of motion based on the principles of functional human anatomy and neurophysiology.

Proximal. Term describing the location of one anatomical body part that is closer to the midline of the body than another. For example, the elbow is proximal to the hand.

Radius. Forearm bone on the thumb side.

Reconstruction. Surgical rebuilding of a joint using natural, artificial or transplanted materials.

Referred Pain. Pain felt in an undamaged area of the body away from the actual injury.

Retraction. The moving of tissue to expose a part or structure of the body.

Sacroiliac. Junction of the sacrum with the hip bone.

Sesamoid Bone. A bone that lies within a muscle tendon that enhances the strength of that tendon or protects an adjacent bone. The most commonly known sesamoid bone is the patella; however, there are two small sesamoid bones located at the base of the great toe. Occasionally, this type of bone will not develop as one complete piece, and this congenital condition is referred to as a bipartite sesamoid.

Shin Splint. A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the shin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.

Spasm. A sudden, violent and involuntary muscle contraction.

Spleen. Large organ in the body responsible for the normal production and destruction of blood cells.

Sports Drink. See Carbohydrate-Electrolyte Drink.

Sternoclavicular Joint. Articulation of the collarbone and the sternum.

Stress Fracture. A hairline break in a bone usually caused by overuse.

Stretching. Any therapeutic maneuver designed to elongate soft tissue.

Superior. In anatomy, the upper of two parts, towards the top or above.

Supination. Movement of the forearm into a palm-up position or placing the foot into an adducted and inverted position.

Synovial Fluid. Lubricating fluid for joints and tendons.

Synovitis. Inflammation of the synovial lining of a joint.

Talus. The anklebone that articulates with the tibia and fibula.

Temporomandibular Joint (TMJ). The articulation of the jaw and skull.

Tendon. Tissue that connects muscle to bone.

Tennis Elbow. General term for lateral elbow pain.

Thoracic. Group of 12 vertebrae located in the thorax, which articulate with the 12 ribs.

Trachea. The windpipe.

Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulator (TENS). An electrical modality applied to the skin; it stimulates the brain to release the natural analgesic, endorphin.
Ulna. Forearm bone that runs from the tip of the elbow to the little finger side of the wrist.

Ulnar Nerve. Nerve in the elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing or repeated trauma; when contused, produces pain associated with the "funny bone" sensation.

Ultrasound. An electrical modality that transmits sound waves through an applicator into soft tissue in order to heat the area.

Valgus. Angulation outward and away from the midline of the body.

Varus. Angulation inward and toward the midline of the body.

Vasoconstriction. Decrease of local blood flow.

Vasodilation. Increase of local blood flow.

Vertebra. Any of the bones or segments of cartilage that form the spinal column.

Wind Knocked Out. Syndrome describing a contraction of the abdominal nerve truck, the solar plexus, as a result of an abdominal contusion.

Since the mid-80s, the Kings Organization has shared the floor with one of the most exciting dance teams in the NBA. The Sacramento Kings Dance Team brings tremendous amounts of energy to the organization, adding to the overall entertainment value of each and every Kings home game. The Sacramento Kings Dancers are recognized both nationally and worldwide, performing at the 2004 NBA China Games and Manila, Philippines at NBA Madness in July 2008, as well as the NBA Jam Van in 2005 and 2007. The Dance Team has also appeared on NBA Inside Stuff, Oprah, Party At the Palms and ESPN, where they were awarded the "Walton Award" for Best Halftime Act.

The Sacramento Kings Dance Team keeps busy performing at all of the Kings home games, where they visit with fans and perform explosive dance routines. Off the court, the dancers' hours are filled participating in community events and charity fundraisers. The dancers perform, sign autographs, take photos and help out with raffles for various associations including Muscular Dystrophy, Mercy Foundation, Leukemia Society, American Heart Walk and the Boys and Girls Club of Sacramento.

To request an appearance, please contact Jennifer Santich at (916) 928-5193 or jsantich@arcoarena.com.

KINGS BROADCASTING

With seven Emmy Awards and thirteen Nominations, the Sacramento Kings Broadcast Team has elevated its television production to one of the highest levels in all of professional sports. For the fifth straight season the Kings Broadcast Team will produce all local games on News10 or Comcast SportsNet. And for the fifth straight season all home games will be delivered in High Definition.

NEWS10: Kings' Over-the-Air Flagship

Sacramento's news leader enters its fifth season with the Kings and will carry 15 regular season games, including the season opener on October 29th at Minnesota. The veteran broadcast team of Grant Napear and Jerry Reynolds provide all the action and will be joined by courtside reporter Angela Tsai.

COMCAST SPORTSNET: Kings' Cable Flagship

Comcast SportsNet enters its fifth season of a 10-year alliance with the Kings and will air 75 broadcasts, including all eight preseason contests and the home opener on November 5th versus Memphis. Napear and Reynolds provide the game call while Tsai will provide reports from courtside.

All regular season Comcast SportsNet broadcasts feature the Warm-Up/Wrap-Up Show, House Party Live (HPL). The fan interactive HPL enters its fifth season, delivering an energetic blend of critical basketball information and fresh entertainment. The multi-talented Jim Kozimor handles the hosting duties while Henry Turner (former Kings guard), Kayte Christensen (Alturas, CA native and former WNBA forward), and Fat Lever (former NBA standout) provide intuitive basketball analysis and insight.

In addition to producing all of the team's radio and television network broadcasts, the Kings also manage all advertising and sponsorship sales for their broadcasts.

KHTK SPORTS 1140AM: Kings' Radio Flagship

The region's 50,000-watt flagship radio station, KHTK, will once again broadcast all 90 Kings games in 2007-2008. The "G-Man", Gary Gerould, enters his 23rd year (over 1800 games) as the voice of the Kings.

The "Kings Live" Pregame show, packed full of interviews and features, rolls through your radio 60 minutes prior to tip. The "Kings Live" postgame show, powered by live fan calls and locker room reaction, takes you home 90 minutes after the game. Your hosts of the show are the rock solid Jason Ross (6th year) and Monarchs Assistant Coach Tom Abatemarco (6th year). Napear, Reynolds, Tsai, Christensen and Turner will also be regular contributors on the show.

GARY GEROULD

Radio Play-By-Play

Entering his 24th season with the Kings and having called 1,821 Kings games, Gary Gerould has been the "Voice of the Kings" since the team's arrival in Sacramento (1985) as radio play-by-play announcer on the club's flagship station KHTK (1140 AM). Gerould is widely considered one of the best play-by-play announcers in all of sports broadcasting. Game 7 of the 2004 Western Conference Semifinals versus Minnesota marked Gerould's 1,500th Kings broadcast. He is among the top 10 in longevity among NBA broadcasters.

Gerould's workload is a direct testimony of his talent and work ethic. In addition to his basketball duties with the Kings, he currently works the $50 million NHRA drag racing tour for ESPN Television. This follows 25 years of covering the Indy car circuit as a pit reporter for world-wide events, including the Indy 500. He has been a part of more than 1,400 nationally televised events.

Gerould was a member of the Turner Broadcast Network telecast of the 1990 Goodwill Games in Seattle. Prior to joining ABC, Gerould spent 11 years at NBC and was a member of the network's coverage team at the XXIV Olympic Games in Seoul. He also served as a regular NFL play-by-play announcer in addition to his motor sports duties.

Gerould's broadcasting career dates back to his high school days in Midland, Mich., as a play-by-play announcer for the local radio station. In 2000, he was inducted into the Midland Hall of Fame. A speech and physical education graduate of Anderson (Indiana) University, Gerould headed west to Chico, Calif., in 1963 where he became the news and sports director at KHSL Radio.

In 1965, he moved to Sacramento and joined the sports department at KCRA-TV, where he worked for 12 years. During that span he also was the play-by-play announcer for Sacramento State football and basketball. In 1977, he formed Gary Gerould Enterprises and since then has freelanced as a public relations consultant, commercial spokesman, and motor sports writer and broadcaster.

He and his wife, Marlene, have a daughter, Beth, and a son, Bob, who also enjoys a career in professional sports broadcasting.

GRANT NAPEAR

Television Play-By-Play

Grant Napear enters his 21st season announcing for the Kings, serving as the television play-by-play announcer for the Kings Broadcast Network. The 49-year-old Syosset, New York native has called Kings action as the team's play-by-play announcer from 1988-89 through 1993-94 and 1998-1999 to present, in addition to three campaigns (1995-96 - 1997-98) as the Kings' radio play-by-play announcer on KHTK (1140 AM). He is the current daily host for the top-rated afternoon sports talk show in the Sacramento area on KHTK.

Prior to joining the Kings Broadcast Network talent team on a full-time basis, Napear served as the sports director at the then-Kings' flagship television station, Channel 31, for nine years (1987-95). Napear's play-by-play experience includes working with ESPN Radio, the National Hockey League's San Jose Sharks, the Sacramento Gold Miners (1992-94), a former member of the Canadian Football League, and most recently with the San Jose Sabercats of the Arena Football League. Napear was the television voice for the Oakland Raiders from 2003-07. He is currently a fill-in host for the nationally syndicated radio Jim Rome Show.

Napear began his professional career as a weekend sports anchor at WAND-TV in Decatur, Illinois. He spent his collegiate years (1977-81) as the play-by-play announcer for the football, basketball and hockey teams at his alma mater, Bowling Green University, while pursuing his degree in broadcast journalism. Napear hosts an annual golf tournament to benefit the Future Founderation which enables underprivlidged students to attend college. Napear resides in Folsom with his two sons, Trent (11) and Chase (9).

KINGS BROADCAST NETWORK

JIM KOZIMOR

Kings Broadcaster

Jim Kozimor is entering his 19th season as a broadcaster in the NBA, serving as the Kings' television pregame and postgame show host and back-up radio play-by-play announcer. His duties also include hosting the team's weekly radio show and television specials. He also has been the WNBA Monarchs' television and radio play-by-play announcer for the past 11 seasons.

This past summer, Kozimor provided the call for NBC's coverage of badminton during the Beijing Summer Games. He also works on a variety of events for Comcast SportsNet as play-by-play announcer. He has called Pac-10 football, men's and women's basketball, baseball, soccer, volleyball and water polo, in addition to the Arena Football League, Major League Lacrosse, National Lacrosse League, Major Indoor Soccer League, World Team Tennis and the high school football game of the week. He also hosts Oakland Raiders Press Conference Live, a weekly NFL review show.

"Koz" joined the Sacramento Kings broadcast team prior to the 1998-99 season, hosting the organization's radio pregame, postgame and halftime shows and providing back-up play-by-play duties, as well as handling host duties for the team's weekly radio talk show, "Kings Talk." In 1998-99, he served as the television color analyst for the Kings. Kozimor has served as the sideline reporter for Kings games for five seasons.

Prior to his tenure in Houston, Kozimor spent two years as the radio play-by-play announcer for the Philadelphia 76ers (1992-94) and three seasons as a sideline reporter and fill-in play-by-play announcer for the Golden State Warriors (1989-92).

Before joining the NBA ranks, Kozimor spent time working in Chicago at WMVP, co-hosting a sports talk show. Kozimor served a three-year stint as the play-by-play voice of the San Jose Jammers and La Crosse Catbirds of the Continental Basketball Association.

Kozimor began his broadcasting career in college at Michigan State University where he earned a bachelor's degree in communications. A native of Chicago, and a huge Cubs fan, he has finished one Chicago Marathon and two triathlons. He resides in Sacramento with his wife, Sandra, their four-year-old daughter, Addison and two-year-old twins, Ava and Sasha.

ANGELA TSAI

Kings Courtside/Multimedia Reporter

Angela Tsai is back for her second season as the Kings' courtside reporter. Before moving to Sacramento last year she hosted "NBA Timeout" for AZN Television, going behind-the-scenes with the biggest legends and stars of the game. Her work on the show was nominated for a NAMIC Vision Award in 2008. She also anchored the NBA TV news desk, and was a feature correspondent at both All-Star Weekend and the NBA Finals for the network.

Tsai has also hosted a multitude of entertainment genres for television, from international comic book conventions to the Asia Pacific Poker Tour. Her work has aired on Comcast On Demand, AMC, MTV, E! and Nickelodeon. With roots in theater, she has worked as a teaching artist in the New York City school system, raising social awareness through improvisational, interactive socio-drama with students.

A native of the East Coast and an avid basketball fan, Tsai once captained the Duke cheerleading squad and was an award-winning photographer/writer at Duke University. She graduated with a major in public policy and a minor in visual arts.

She currently resides in Sacramento with her husband, actor Michael Hollick.

KAYTE CHRISTENSEN

Basketball Analyst

Kayte Christensen enters her second season as a basketball analyst on Comcast SportsNet's House Party Live Warm-Up and Wrap-up show. She is also a frequent contributor to Kings.com.

A former WNBA player with the Phoenix Mercury, Houston Comets and Chicago Sky, the 28-year-old Christensen has worked in a variety of broadcasting capacities, including analyst work for the Phoenix Suns pregame show, co-hosting a daily radio show (which featured frequent guest Charles Barkley), hosting "Nuthin' But Net", a weekly webcast for the Phoenix Suns, and as a feature correspondent for MLB.com.

The Northern California native played high school basketball at Modoc High School in Alturas, Calif., where she was named the California Division V Player of the Year in 1998. She then attended UC Santa Barbara where she was a two-time Academic All-American. She also was named the Big West Conference Player of the Year in 2002.

Christensen lives in Natomas with her three dogs, Hektor, Ella and Mischa.

KINGS BROADCAST NETWORK

JASON ROSS

Radio Pre/Postgame/Halftime Host

Having served in a variety of capacities since 1994, Jason Ross returns for another season as a member of the Maloof Sports & Entertainment broadcast team. Ross has worked as a pregame, halftime and postgame host for the Sacramento Kings and Monarchs, as well as a locker room reporter and game day statistician.

Ross, who currently serves as the sports director for Sports 1140 KHTK AM, which is the flagship station for both the Kings and the Monarchs, is the play-by-play voice of Sacramento State Hornet football and has held that position since 1997. He was also the play-by-play announcer for the San Francisco Demons during the only season of the XFL.

A native of Southern California, Ross graduated from UC Davis in 1994 with a degree in rhetoric and communications. He resides in Sacramento with his wife, Alva, and their five-year old son, Jackson.

ARMANDO BOTELLO

Spanish Radio Play-by-Play

Armando Botello has covered the Kings for 16 seasons.

With over 30 years experience, Botello has held positions ranging from television to print to radio in Sacramento's local media scene. From 1999 to 2001, he was also the original co-host of "Voz y Voto", a weekly political television show broadcast by the Univision Network throughout California, where he interviewed major political figures including President George Bush. He is also currently doing the play-by-play for the Spanish broadcast of the Oakland Raiders games.

Assuming the position of news director at KRCX in 1984, Botello became responsible for the production of the first 30-minute Spanish language daily newscast in the Sacramento area, which resulted in the longest running morning radio program in the area.

Botello, who earned a dual bachelor's degree in communications and ethnic studies from Sacramento State University, lives with his wife, Leticia. The couple has two children, Araceli Ofelia and Armando Enrique. He was inducted into the California Chicano News Media Association Hall of Fame in the summer of 2002.

HENRY TURNER

Kings House Party Live and Radio Analyst

Former Kings guard-forward Henry Turner returns to the House Party Live TV show and the Kings Talk radio program for a third season. The Oakland, Calif., native brings a wealth of NBA and International basketball knowledge to the shows having played for the Sacramento Kings and overseas in Italy, Spain, Greece and Turkey, where he was the league MVP in 1996 and 1997.

"The High Flyer" will join Jim Kozimor and Kayte Christensen on both television and radio.

Henry resides in Folsom with his wife Delmita and his three children, daughters Khendel (16) and Khendra (4), and son EJ (11).

TOM ABATEMARCO

Kings Radio Basketball Analyst

Coach 'T', Tom Abatemarco returns for his sixth season as the basketball analyst on Kings Radio, partnering with Jason Ross before and after every game.

Abatemarco has been involved at every level of basketball, primarily from a coaching standpoint. He has been an assistant coach for the Sacramento Monarchs (WNBA) for the last five seasons. He also has served as the head coach at Sacramento State (2000), Lamar (1986-1988) and Drake University (1988-1990).

He also has worked as an assistant coach at the University of Utah, Rutgers University, the University of Colorado and North Carolina State, where he was part of their NCAA National Championship team in 1983. Additional coaching experience came as an assistant coach at Virginia Tech, Maryland, St. John's, Davidson, Iona, the New York Institute of Technology and his alma mater, Dowling College.

THEY COVER KINGS

SAM AMICK
Beat Writer
Sacramento Bee

Sam Amick is in his fourth season as the Kings' beat writer for the Sacramento Bee. In his role as the club's beat writer, Amick is one of only a few local media members to travel with the club on a full-time basis. Amick has been with the Bee since 2000, covering pro baseball, collegiate, and high school sports before delving into the NBA.

Amick began his career as an intern at The Record in Stockton, covering the San Francisco 49ers' training camp and minor league baseball. A native of the Bay Area, Amick earned his bachelor's degree in journalism from Sacramento State in 2000. He and his wife, Emily, reside in Elk Grove with their two-year-old son, Ryder.
